THOMAS R. MARSHALL IS DEAD

UNDER capitalism, France has barometer in the franc,
warn it to reef sail before the huricane arrives. Whenever its politicians carry their bluff of an economic nonsense too far, a drop scars them into telling their people the truth.

Under communism, Russia has to wait for the slower test of commodities. According to German reports, even this slow test
has finally compelled recognition of the facts. Peasants are without even the crudest
metal

tools with which to work their lands, and have, of course, no business way to procure them from the business men of a business world in a country where business is a crime. So they are to be permitted to rent land, to pay wages,
and to sell goods, for money. You can read in communist books how all these things are necessary, but when you at last face facts, you have to act on them.

Japan denies the reports that the coming maneuvers are to be a real
"mobilization" of all the resources of the country, civil as well as military. The situation is regarded as too "delicate" for even the rumor of such a gesture.

Why should it be? There would be no menace to anything but the overwrought nerves of our jingoes
in any amount of military co-ordination of Japan's resources. It's none of our business, anyway. We made a similar test, on an inadequate scale, last year, and were very emphatic that it was nobody's business.

By agreement, the navies of America and Japan are kept to a limit
at which neither could be as aggressive war across the ocean, on the other. So long as the navies observe that agreement, it makes no difference to either nation how strong an army the other has. We are very much interested in the size of the French army, because it costs money that we owe to us,
and menaces a peace which, if broken,
would involve us.

Neither of these conditions applies to Japan.

DOES it make a country richer or poorer to invest money abroad?
Ask Britain. British investors, under government encouragement, developed the rubber industry of the East Indies. For a while they lost money, then made it, and then lost again.

As a whole, it has been profitable even with the development risks and the stress of war. And now, it is figured that the rubber exports to the United States will alone pay all the huge war-debt instalments. To pay such a debt as this in money is impossible.

Britain remains solvent because it can pay it in rubber—a commodity which we are anxious to import, and against which we will sell "no political or business barriers. The bread cast upon the waters is returning again, after many days.

ONE good thing, at least, comes out of evolution. King Albert has acceded to Carl Akeley's request, and set aside a game refuge in Africa where the few remaining gorillas can live, multiply, and be studied but not hunted or captured.

With proper protection against human and animal enemies, in their natural climate and environment, there is no reason why these unique apes should not multiply and thrive. They are not ferocious, Akeley says, and, relieved from fear, they may become really friendly, so that it may become possible to study their life intelligently. Since, in development and intelligence, they are at least as far above the monkeys as man is above them, this one reserve may throw more light on the beginnings of mind and of society than all the rest of the world besides.

AMERICAN tourists will spend
this year over two million dollars just for passports, and over eight millions more for foreign visas on those passports. Seventy millions is a low estimate of the summer's bill for steamboat fares.
Perhaps ten times that will be the total cost of American "tourism" abroad.

The economic listing of all this money export ranks it as an "invisible import" of goods. It is as if Europe had sold us that amount in excess of what it bought of us.
In fact, except that much of it is made abroad, this is exactly what does happen. We simply buy of Europe, in this way, to balance against that we sell. That is why,
in figuring international balances,
the export of money is reckoned as an invisible "import," and is import as an "export."

DECISION

Enforcer
Destro Supreme

WASHINGTON

cannot at parochial schools,
court ruled today.

Justice McReynolds read the decision of the court, which was unanimous.

"We are of the opinion that this law, if enforced, would destroy private schools within the state," the decision said. "We think that the act interferes unlawfully with the right of parents to regulate the education of their children."

Not Mere Creature of State

"The child is not a mere creature of the state."

An Oregon federal court decision, giving two schools an injunction restraining the state officers
from enforcing the law, in September, 1926, when it was scheduled to go into effect, was affirmed. The law, adopted in a general state election, under the initiative in November, 1922, affected about 12,000 children now
in private and church schools.

Gov. Walter M. Pierce, Attorney General Isaac H. Van Winkle and District Attorney Stanley Meyers, of Multnomah county,
who were named in the injunction, appealed to the supreme court to dismiss it on the grounds that the law was a constitutional exercise of the police powers of the state.

Schools Bring Suits

The Hill Military academy and the Society of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary obtained the lower court injunction on the argument that the law, if enforced,
would deprive them of their property without due process of law
in violation of the 14th amendment to the constitution.

The two schools also contended the measure denied them equal protection under the law and impaired their contracts.

Both schools were incorporated under the laws of the state of Oregon.

The Seventh Day Adventists
and the Protestant Episcopal society, both of which maintain church schools in various places
over the country, joined in opposing the measure, submitting briefs against it in the supreme court.

Two More Decisions

The supreme court, in two far-reaching decisions, today held that trade associations do not violate the Sherman anti-trust laws by preparing and using
"cost lists," and circulating statistical data. The decisions settle a long mooted question in favor of the business organizations.

The court reversed the decision of the federal court for the western district of Michigan ordering the Maple Flooring Manufacturers' association dissolved on the ground it was guilty of restraint of trade in interstate commerce, and another decision annulled an injunction forbidding the Cement Manufacturers' Protective

association to sue for damages.

The court also held that a company which had been found guilty of conspiracy to restrain trade in interstate commerce was not liable for damages under the Sherman act.

OF EIGHT ADMITS DING HER HUSBAND TO ATH WITH BOILING OIL

N. N. J., June 1.—
Cabeth Storaci, 40, eight children, today
admitted to police that she killed her husband with boiling oil.

stood before a cauldron
kitchen stove and stirring the fluid hot enough
to cause death, detectives said today. Then she told them, "I killed
my husband, as he slept Saturday, according to story."
Storaci, burned from head to foot, writhed in agony until last night when he died.

Mrs. Storaci's oldest child,
Frank, 17, saw the tragedy,
but was too late to stop her.
Shortly before he died, Storaci regained consciousness and told police his wife had once been confined to the New Jersey hospital for the insane.
She was released three years ago, Storaci said, and was obsessed with the idea that he was attentive to other women.
This he assigned as the cause for her act.

Idaho Shriners
Happy
Wives at Home

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—
At least five Nobles of Calam temple, Lewiston, Idaho, came to the annual Shrine
conclave without wives.

Arm in arm, they paraded downtown streets for hours
today, chanting merrily:
"There are no wives with us."
"There are no wives with
us."
"There may be wives with some of the guys."
"But there are no wives
with us."

Imperial Potentate James E.
Chandler, and the caravans of 36
eastern temples, reached the end of their transcontinental trek this morning. They had been preceded by an advance host of 100,000 Nobles, and before nightfall it was estimated approximately 100,000
others would have reached the oasis.

Fifty Shrine bands and a score of patrols and chanters escorted the potentate and his divan to imperial headquarters. The march led through triumphal archways,
and under thousands of banners
flung across congested downtown streets. Everywhere, the invaders had the right of way.

Today the temple recorders and other chief Shriners sailed from Los Angeles Harbor to the "magic island of Catalina" to hold council and make merry.

The rank and file of the invading army began their festive stop on downtown streets. Fifty Shrine bands, araded the streets of Los Angeles and Hollywood, accompanied by thousands of tribesmen, California officialdom, and the leading film stars from Hollywood joined in the brisk welcome accorded the visitors. More than $1,000,000 has been raised to entertain the invading Nobles.

The annual session of the Imperial Council will be called to order tomorrow, officially inaugurating the 51st conclave of the Shrine order.

CHINESE SOLDIERS
KILL THEIR OFFICER

LONDON, June 1.—Six advanced Chinese soldiers at the Heung Chow garrison, in South China, mutinied and killed the majority of their officers, according to a delayed dispatch from Hongkong to the Central News.

Sixty of the mutineers later were arrested and put to death, the dispatch said.

Failure to pay the soldiers was given as the cause of the mutiny.

SIX GRAVEYARD Promoters Are
To Go On Trial

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Six officials and department heads of the Valhalla Memorial Park project are to go on trial before Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick tomorrow, charged with using the mails to defraud. Their alleged frauds total $5,000,000, according to federal postal authorities.

The six are charged with swindling approximately 6000 "investors" in what federal officers claim to have been one of the largest promotion schemes of its kind ever attempted in the United States.

The defendants are John R. Osborne, president; C. C. Fitzpatrick, secretary-treasurer; Charles C.
Vaughan, auditor and manager;
Fred G. Waterman, organization manager; Maynard L. Monger and W. L. Halberstadt, sales managers.

The site of the proposed memorial park was three and a half miles northwest of Burbank, in the San Fernando valley.

Osborne and Fitzpatrick, said to be the ringleaders of the enterprise, are at liberty under $50,000 bonds.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Blind old Charley Lawler, who, 30 years ago,
in an East Side tenement, wrote that imperishable ballad, "The Sidewalks of New York," died
Sunday from a heart attack.

The teeming city, whose greatest song he had written, scarcely knew of his passing.

Lawler had planned to celebrate his 73rd birthday on Tuesday and now his funeral has been arranged for that day.

In "the good old days" Charley knew intimately Tom Foley and Charley Murphy and others of fame. In after years they forgot him and he was alone when he died.

PAYS $110,000
FOR 20 ACRES
OF ORANGES

H. E. Hunt, Veteran Anaheim Grower, Purchases
Skirvin's Valencia Grove

AMONG COUNTY'S BEST

Deal Is Regarded By Real Estate Men As Among Biggest of Kind Here

OBTAINING what is said to be the highest price, per acre paid for an orange grove in Orange county since the war, C. F.
Skirvin, 1501 North Broadway,
former newspaper man, today announced the sale of a 20-acre grove
of valencias, located near Anaheim
for the cash consideration of $110, 000.

The purchaser is H. E. Hunt, veteran Anaheim orange grower,
who resides on Ceritos avenue,
two miles southwest of Anaheim.

The orange grove, for three years regarded as one of the best in the county, is located two miles east of Anaheim, on Rio Vista avenue, and is said to be one of the best groves in the county.

Price is $5500 Per Acre

At the price of $5500 per acre
for the grove, although it is considered one of the choicest in the county, the deal is regarded by real estate men as probably comprising the largest of its kind made in Orange county in several years.

Orange groves here have sold as high as $6000 an acre, it was pointed out, but not since the war has a new record during the last six years.

That the grove is in one of the best locations for growing oranges
in the county, is borne out by the fact that it never has suffered from frost.

Skirvin today stated that the present crop of trees has been appraised at $25,000, thus giving some idea of the value of the grove.

Result of Proper Care

Bought three years ago by Skirvin, the grove at that time was not in the best of condition, but proper care and the use of scientific methods employed by Skirvin, have brought the grove to the outstanding groves in the county.

Hunt is an experienced orange grower. He has been growing oranges in Orange county for the last 26 years. He already owned 45 acres of oranges in the county,
today's sale increasing his holdings to 65 acres.

Skirvin said today that he would remain in Santa Ana. He did not say what business he would enter, but disclosed that he had no intention of leaving the city.

The deal was effected by W. J.
Vilott and J. L. Swarthaus, Anaheim real estate dealers.

Five acres of walnuts, belonging to Mrs. Dorothy Liggett, of West Orange, was sold to D. P.
Leonard, Santa Ana, for $12,000 cash. The property is located in West Orange.

W. H. Hutton and Ray Johnson,
of the Salisbury and Aubrey firm,
handled the transaction.

Most precious for vacation wear comfortable shoes

YOUR vacation—sightseeing, tramping about the decks of ships, climbing stairs, dancing—your vacation shoes must be comfortable. Yet of course you want them smartly styled.

Where but in Walk-Over Princess Pat and Relief can you find the style you want with the comfort you must have? Walk-Over originated the style-comfort shoe in the Princess Pat. It does not look the part, yet it is a comfort shoe.

It is made with a straight inside line to fit the natural shape of the normal foot. It is a combination last; a wider-than-usual tread is combined with an extra-narrow heel. It is so supremely comfortable because it fits the shape of the normal foot.

It is the most widely imitated style-comfort shoe made, and yet there is no other shoe to compare with Princess Pat in comfort, except the Walk-Over Relief.

The Relief is made with a wide tread. It has a curved inside line. Even mild forms of bunions or enlarged joints find comfort in the Relief. It has the comfort you expect in your favorite slippers, yet look at the style it has. It is made in any of the new patterns of Walk-Over style shoes.

You find these two famous shoes here at the Walk-Over store—and only in Walk-Over dealers' stores. Make sure that the shoe you wear is really a Relief or Princess Pat. You will know it by the Walk-Over trade-marks stamped on the sole.

For your vacation—or your summer at home—you should know the smart style and unbelievable comfort of these shoes. Here at the Walk-Over store you can find it.

SUPERVISORS EXPECTED TO DECIDE TOMORROW ON HARBOR BOND ELECTION

Interest of Orange county residents today centered on the meeting of the board of supervisors tomorrow, when it is expected that body will reach a definite decision as to whether it will, at this time, name a date next fall for the holding of election to vote on an issue of bonds in the sum of $1,200,000 for improvement of Orange County Harbor, or refer the report of the County Harbor commission, filed some weeks ago, back to the commission. The subject will come before the board at 2 p. m.

According to public statements by T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board, if the latter action is taken it will be upon a trumped-up technicality.

As indicated at previous meetings of the board, the personnel is divided three to two, the majority favoring action that will postpone to a later date, possibly next fall, the matter of deciding whether the election should be called.

Where Members Stand

S. F. Finley, of the first supervisorial district; William Schumacher, third, and Leon Whitsell, fourth, are the men who have declared that consideration of an election date should be deferred until fall.

Talbert, second, and George Jeffrey, fifth, favor settlement of the question at this time, with an election date set for about October 7.

It is expected that delegations, representing those who favor, this time, settling the fall date, and those who are opposed to calling an election at all, will be present at the meeting.

Talbert and others supporting the faction favoring immediate adoption of an ordinance providing for an election in October, take the position that adoption of such an ordinance would make it possible to conduct legal proceedings necessary to clear up points involved in the question as to whether bonds, if voted, would be legal. A technical point has resulted from the passage, by the state legislature two years ago, of a bill ceding tide lands to the county.

Talbert has pointed out that, if the ordinance were adopted at this time, it would be an easy matter to repeal it, should it be found, in the latter part of next year, that conditions were not favorable to the bond proposition.

Should Group Items

It has been suggested that various items included in the proposed bond issue should be grouped so as to give voters the opportunity of approving or disapproving. It is maintained by some that bonds totalling approximately $600,000 would be voted readily for building the east jetty, for repairing the west jetty, and for dredging the entrance to the harbor to make it safe for small craft.

Opposition to this plan is based mostly on the point that if this were done, and the jetty-entrance bonds were carried and others were not, the county again would be involved in another election to provide funds when it became necessary to do further dredging in the bay. It is pointed out that the same results can be attained by voting the entire issue, with supervisors and harbor commission pledged not to sell more bonds than are necessary to complete the jetty and entrance plan.

Such pledges already have been made in public addresses by Talbert and H. A. Lake, chairman of the harbor commission. The harbor commission recommended, at first, that only the entrance be improved and that other work follow only when the harbor traffic has developed to the point justifying work inside the bay.

FERTILIZER IS CALLED MENACE IN PLACENTIA

A petition filed today in superior court, seeking removal of fertilizer cars sidetracked by the Santa Fe Railroad company, in Placentia, was said to have had its inception on that day, about a year ago, when the people of Placentia wrinkled their collective nostrils, sniffed suspiciously and then became aware of something "on the air."

Chief Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley filed the petition today to abate an alleged public nuisance caused by the railroad company's practice of switching cars of fertilizer to a spur track adjacent to the business and residential section of the town.

The petition mentions odors—free and untrammelled odors that mingle with the townfolk in a most democratic manner, despite snubs and rebuffs. They accompany the shoppers on their rounds of the stores, and are the constant companion of the housewives in their drawings rooms or, worse, in their kitchens. The delicate business has suffered. The soda fountain men, in the midst of an expected hot weather rush, aren't so busy. Placentia's appetite and thirst are dropping, but Placentia's doctors, it is feared, will be kept busy if the situation continues.

According to the petition, the fertilizer cars are popular only with the flies, which add to the asserted menace to public health. Agitation regarding the cars of fertilizer became so marked some months ago that the Placentia chamber of commerce registered a protest and the district attorney's office took the matter in hand.

An attempt to adjust the difficulty amicably met with encouragement from the railroad officials, who appeared willing to eliminate the nuisance. However, according to Mozley, no action has ever been taken toward that end, so that the district attorney's office finally brought the matter to the attention of the courts.

S. A. SHRINERS ON CONCLAVE STAFF

Motley H. Flint, director general of the Shrine convention in Los Angeles, has appointed two Santa Ana nobles on the staff of imperial dignitaries of the order, it was announced today.

Sheriff Sam Jernigan will act as special aide to Imperial Past Potentate Henry W. Akin, of this city, and R. L. Bisby, well known local real estate and hotel man, will serve in a similar capacity to Past Imperial Potentate Henry E. Niedringhaus, of St. Louis, Mo.

The two imperial dignitaries and their personal aides will make their headquarters in the Biltmore hotel during the convention.

CARRIES 72 AIRPLANES

The U. S. S. Saratoga is shown just after her landing, N. J., with the airplanes for whom she is to be flying overhead in greeting. Inset shows her as she is. The Saratoga is the longest naval vessel in the world with a beam of 88 feet, 105 feet and 74 feet deep, displacing 35,000 tons. Six great electric motors developing 180,000 h. p., enough to supply a city of 1,000,000, will drive her by means of six screws at a speed of 33 knots per hour. She is capable of carrying 72 airplanes, which can be repaired and refueled, and then land on her spacious decks.

Bird Singers

The most famous four birds in English literature are the nightingale, the blackbird, the cuckoo, and the skylark. All four are unknown in America. We have the yellowbill and blackbill cuckoo, but they are quite unlike the English variety.

As for the blackbird, I thoroughly agree with Theodore Roosevelt and with Lord Grey that he is the finest singer in England. When I read many years ago Tennyson's poem to the blackbird, celebrating the beauty of his music, I could not imagine what caused the poet's enthusiasm; the word blackbird had for me a quite different connotation.

Our red-winged blackbird, with the scarlet epaulets, has only a genial wheeze; while the so-called crowblackbird sings as though he had tonsillitis, or as though his voice were adolescently changing. But the British and the continental blackbirds emit the most heavenly music. In spring dawns in Germany, they used to wake me up at 4 o'clock; I never thought of throwing boot-jacks at them, for I was entranced by the melody.

One February day, while standing in front of the University of Munich during a violent snowstorm, I saw a blackbird on the branch of a tree; he had his beak pointed toward the wind, and while the snowflakes beat upon his little face, he poured out a stream of the loveliest music in the world.

Many reasons have been given why no one of this supreme quartet can live in the United States; when they are imported, they die. Some say they cannot get the right diet—that nonsense! It has remained for me to discover and to announce the true reason. It is bees. We have not sufficient bees. When a nightingale, who is accustomed to gushes of honey from Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Wordsworth, Keats, comes hither and is greeted by American poets, he dies.—William Lyon Phelps in Scribner's Magazine.

JOHN WILSON IS JAILED ON BOOZE CHARGE

John Wilson, 30, Laguna Beach, is in jail, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor. Four cases of alleged Scotch whiskey, bearing the label, "Canadian Club," are in a locker at the county jail, and there is another feather in the cap of Walter Meyer, motorcycle officer and deputy sheriff, as the result of a "catch" on the San Diego highway, near Irvine, Saturday afternoon.

Wilson was arrested by Meyer and Ray Bradfield, motorcycle officer, as he drove his small sedan along the road. He had been suspected for several weeks by Meyer, who stopped him.

"What have you in the car, Wilson?" Meyer asked.

"Oh, Walt, I've got it," Wilson is alleged to have answered. The alleged whiskey was found in the rear of the car. Two cases were in cartons of 24 pint bottles to the carton, and the remainder was wrapped in newspapers, and in a suitcase.

Meyer is the officer who figured in the capture of two trucks of Scotch whiskey near Laguna last week, on information that ships were landing near Laguna with whiskey.

Wilson's arrest followed a vigil maintained for him from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m., Saturday.

Time to Beautify Lawn or Garden

Perhaps a bit of wood, used artistically, is all that your lawn or garden needs to give it charm and perfection.

Much in beauty is to be gained through construction of a decorative fence, a trellis, pergola or garden seat. All of these can be made from redwood to last for many, many years.

The colorful flowers and the green of lawn and shrubs are enhanced and emphasized by these ornamental pieces—which are of real utility, too—particularly if they are dressed in a glistening coat of white paint.

It is the time of year for such improvement. The cost is nominal. We are equipped to supply materials or to deliver complete from our mill any special work desired.

The improvement in beauty and value to your home is double the actual cost of the improvement, you will find.

Streets Jammed
By Traffic Over
Double Holiday

The Saturday and Sunday holiday created traffic jams in Santa Ana similar to those that have featured double week-end holidays in the past.

Streams of southbound automobiles started passing through Santa Ana early Friday evening and continued until Sunday noon.

Return of the pleasure seekers
late yesterday afternoon continued
the jammed conditions on First and Main streets.

Automobiles carrying Shriners to Los Angeles, traveling in the opposite direction to the lines heading toward the beaches and mountains south of Santa Ana, created excessive traffic.

Saturday morning restaurants on Main street were swamped with patrons who had left home early in the morning and stopped in this city for breakfast. In many instances, it was necessary for proprietors to send for additional help and supplies.

Country club the first week of

LEGGING IT ON THE LINKS

Notwithstanding that you'll be eighty before you'll ever go 'round in 70, golf is turning all legs toward the links. Americans have come to regard the Olden and Only Game rightly, that is, not only as a sport, but as a health-resort that cures high business pressure and hardening of the arduous of youth. The multiplication of golf courses and golf clubs in this country is one of the remarkable developments of this rapid age which makes today's brunette tomorrow's blonde. We have out-Scotched the Scotch and out-Englished the English in their intuitive health. The pupil is now teaching the master. American pre-eminence in golf as well as polo is not a matter of boast, but a matter of proof with stick and mallet. Vanished is the delusion that golf is the rich man's sport. It is rich only in the sense that it enriches the player's lung and leg capacity and tans
him to a rich Bodwin brown.

Who is the best-dressed golfer in the world? From close observation here and abroad, I should say that the American may fairly lay claim to the title. He is less set and stodgy in his ways. He dresses with greater initiative and independence.
He is quicker to adopt practical improvements designed to give ease in stance and swing. He possesses a wider choice of garments for frequent change. He is turned out more as an individual and less as a type. The only respect in which he takes second place in conferring golf clothes to the course or club, instead of wearing them indiscriminately and incorrectly away from their proper place and purpose.

Following jumpers or sweaters, golf stockings have burst into the most brilliant patterns and colors that even the imagination of a futuristic faddist can conjure up. In addition, there are the bold solid colors in hose to match the new turtle-neck sweaters to which young men are now so indulgent—green, blue, red, yellow and white. Jacquard treatments blended with a single stocking.
Stippled effect, introducing up to six colors in a single stocking.
Sketches here is one of those vivid-hued diamond and zigzag patterns having either plain or multi-colored tops. Wear them, and your shrinking, though not shrunken calves will stand out like a church steeple silhouetted against the sky. Quality hosiery is always full-fashioned, that is made elastic, so that it expands and contracts. It may be plain or ribbed and the ribs may be narrow or wide. It may have turn-over tops or none, for "plus-four" knick-ers have served to lead a bit of vogue to the plain top.

THE EVENING SKY IN JUNE

This star map shows the heavens
as they appear at 9 p. m., June 1, 8 p. m., June 15 and 7 p. m., June
30. A change of 5 or 10 degrees in latitude makes little difference
in the appearance of the heavens
so the map may be used in all parts of the United States.

The map should be held over the head, or inverted, with the top toward the north to view the constellations as they appear in the heavens.

The constellation of Bootes, The Herdman, shaped like a boy's kite,
is now directly east of the zenith or point overhead. The brilliant orange-hued Arcturus in Bootes and the bluish-white Vega, in Lyra, which is over in the northeast, are now the two brightest stars in view.

Arcturus can always be found by prolonging the handle of the Big Dipper toward the southeast about 30 degrees, which is approximately the extent of the Big Dipper itself, one will have no difficulty in finding the Big Dipper directly to the northwest of the zenith.

The zodiacal constellation of Virgo, The Maiden, is directly on the meridian due south. The first magnitude star, Spica, represents the ear of wheat that the Maiden holds in her hand, symbolic of the harvest.

The planet Saturn is now between Libra and Virgo some distance to the east of Spica and in excellent position for observation.

A small telescope will show its rings and the brightest of its satellites.

Jupiter is not yet above the horizon at the time for which the map
is given but by the end of June it will rise in the southeast in Sagittarius soon after sunset.

Mars and Venus are both in the northwestern sky in the early evening but Venus will be too close to the sun to be seen until the end of June when it may be seen in the twilight not far from the horizon.

Mars is farther east of the sun than Venus but it will be lost to view before the month is over as it is now no brighter than a second magnitude star because of its great distance from the earth.
Venus will be seen because of its exceptional brilliancy though closer to the sun than Mars.

FIND BODY OF SLAIN MEXICAN LYING IN ROAD

Lying face up in the center of an unfrequented road, the body of a Mexican, so far identified only as Tomas, was found at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning,
one-half mile west of the Warner ranch, near Talbert. The man was about 35 years old.

Several deep knife wounds in the body indicated the man had been killed. Officers said they found the body in the center of Francisco Lopez, roommate of Tomas, is in the Orange county jail, charged with suspicion of murder, following his arrest by Chief Criminal Deputy Ed McClellan and Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel.

Searching for Another
Inquest into the death of Tomas is to be held from the Smith and Tuthill funeral parlors this afternoon, and in the meantime deputy sheriffs are scouring the county for one Jesus Lopez, a cousin of Francisco Lopez, who is suspected of being the man who actually used the knife.

Authorities said today they were of the opinion that, although Francisco Lopez knew about the killing, and was probably present at the time, he did not murder Tomas. They intimated that he might have helped drag the body to the lonely road.

McClellan is of the opinion that Tomas was killed some time after midnight yesterday by Jesus Lopez, and that, after the man was dead, Francisco and Jesus dragged the body to the road, approximately a quarter of a mile from their home. No blood was found near the man's body, although it is thought he died from loss of blood after the jugular vein had been severed.

Three Knife Wounds
Three knife wounds were found in the body, one on the right side of the neck, another on the left side, below the left ear, and a third in the shoulder.

Undertakers were of the opinion that the man had not been dead more than two hours, when the body was found.

According to McClellan, Tomas roomed with the Lopez family
in a small house near Warner's place, and he is of the opinion that the murder was committed in this house.

The odor of whiskey was present on the dead man's body, indicating to police that the murder
may have been the outcome of a drunken brawl, they said.

Tomas was known in the Mexican settlement at Talbert and, according to information obtained
by officers, had been hauling
beets for several weeks.

Licenses for the second quarter of the year were due on or before April 15. Many have not been paid, and warning issues by the police have not been heeded, it was said.

Although the number of delinquents is not large, the police department desires to clear up the list before the third quarter licenses are due.

ROMANCE

YOU often hear people refer to the "dear old days of romance"—to the time when knight-errants roamed the earth to do honor to a lady's blue eyes.

These folks say we are living in an age of realism!

An age of "realism" where the human voice is hurled across the world without wires; where the temperature of Mars is taken more than thirty millions of miles away; where tons of steel and people ride easily and safely through the air or under the sea!

An age of realism! Why, this is the most romantic of all ages!

The advertising columns of this paper are full of romance—of the romance of men who have devoted their lives to bringing new comforts, conveniences and pleasures for mankind.

Advertisements tell these stories, not with the romantic exaggeration of a jongleur, but with the calm, simple words of sincerity. Here is a firm that spent millions to develop a product that makes your baby comfortable. Here is a company that has labored fifty years to cut a single hour of toil from your day's work. Here is a man who has searched the Seven Seas to produce a new flavor for your dinner.

Romance—this age is full of it. Not just empty romance, but the true romance of achievement of progress, of the betterment of mankind.

Advertisements tell you what the romance of business is doing for you. Read them

JUVENILE HOME BODY WILL TALK ON NEW BUDGET

Important matters relating to administrative features, including the examination of a proposed budget for the coming fiscal year, will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the county juvenile home committee, according to a statement today.

J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, is chairman of the committee. In addition to the personnel of the committee, the meeting will be attended by Superior Judge Frank C. Drumm, County Probation Officer Leroy A. Warren and the officers of the home.

Regrets were expressed today by those interested in child welfare over the failure of Governor Richardson to approve the new 24-hour school, which would have given home officials and the school trustees adequate money for needed improvements and better educational facilities. Heretofore the taxpayers of Santa Ana, as a matter of public policy, have borne more than their proportionate share towards the upkeep of the home, assuming burdens which properly belong to the state, it was pointed out.

Against Calling Election

Editor Register: We have heard a great many expressions, read a number of articles, in the different papers of this wealthy little county of Orange, in favor of the "Newport Harbor Bond Issue," but we have waited to hear from the largest industrial body and the people who carry the burden on the taxes, with the exception perhaps of the oil industry. This one is the farmer and it is likely we will hear very little until the day of election, when he will be about 100 per cent against the bond issue.

We are all aware of what the last four years have meant to the farmer. Our taxes have to be paid and our other needed obligations must be met, at the expense of our families and our farms neglected, as no farmer can carry on the industry successfully and run behind year after year.

If our "fore-sight" was as good as our hind sight, some of us might be in congress, but it is not, so we must profit by the bad years we have gone through, and not allow ourselves an already over burden of taxes. The farming industry is the backbone of our county and if we add too much of a tax overload upon it, the effect will be marked on every other industry throughout the country.

We have had four years of drouth, damaging desert winds, frosts and exceptionally low returns to the grower, with a rapidly increasing expense burden of bonds already voted and some that are about to come before the voters such as water development, which should be supported.

Keep in mind this harbor bond issue, which if carried, will mean millions of dollars in profits to a few individual bank accounts and company dividends.

The heartiest support and expression of the farmer should be given Col. S. H. Finley, of Santa Ana, William Schumacher of Anaheim, and L. O. Whitsett of Orange, three county supervisors who have taken a stand against a harbor bond issue at this time. Remember, too, that the ballot, cast by any individual on this issue, has the same voting power, even though he has no taxes to pay whatsoever, as the voter whose taxes run up into the thousands of dollars.

JOHN R. RAGAN,
Chairman of the Villa Park-Olive Farm Center.

MAN STEPS FROM CLOSET AS WOMAN PREPARES TO RETIRE; DEMANDS SHE ELOPE WITH HIM

SEAL BEACH, June 1.—Mrs. Elizabeth Sexton, 35, Sixth street and Central avenue, Seal Beach, was severely cut about the arms and face last night by a man who she told police stepped from a closet in her home as she was preparing to retire.

The intruder demanded that Mrs. Sexton elope with him. According to her story to Marshal J. C. Arnold she attempted to outwit him. She said she told the man she would accompany him if he would permit her first to telephone her physician, Dr. A. C. Robbins, who had been treating her.

Instead of summoning Dr. Robbins as she had intended doing Mrs. Sexton said she could not resist calling for help when the doctor's voice sounded on the other end of the wire.

Hearing Mrs. Sexton's call, the intruder sprang forward, striking the woman a heavy blow on the head and then slashed her several times with a knife before fleeing from the house. He is believed to have escaped in an automobile.

Mrs. Sexton said the man, who told her his name was Edward Marquette, had entered Seal Inn cafe, operated by Mrs. Sexton, yesterday morning and demanded that she flee with him. He left without comment when she refused and Mrs. Sexton said she gave no further thought to the incident until the man sprang from his hiding place in her home last night. He is believed to have entered the house during the early evening.

The Way to Beautiful Homes

BEAUTY

Inside and out

Because of its highly finished surface, enamel is always thought of for interior use in the house. But it is frequently used for adding a final touch of beauty to the exterior. When the doorway or the entire entrance to the home is enameled, the color scheme is not altered, but the high gloss finish accentuates the architectural beauty of the house and contributes a note of refinement.

For exterior, as well as interior use, we recommend GOLD SEAL GLOSS ENAMEL. Naturally an enamel that remains beautiful through storm and sunshine, will give long service when applied to the woodwork inside the house.

What a Missouri Lady, Who Suffered from Weakness, Says After Taking Cardui

Matthews, Mo.—"Before the birth of my little girl," Mrs. Lena Stancil, of this place, recently stated, "I was so weak in my back and sides I couldn't go about. I was too weak to stand up or do any work."

"I felt like my back was coming in two. I lost weight. I didn't eat anything much and was so restless I couldn't sleep nights."

"My mother used to take Cardui, so I sent to get it. I was improving after my first bottle. Cardui is certainly a great help for nervousness and weak back. Took six bottles of Cardui and by then was well and strong, just did fine from then on. Cardui helped me so much."

Many thousands of women have been saved from needless suffering and ill health because they have learned the value of Cardui, either from their mothers, as in the case of Mrs. Stancil, or from experienced women friends and relatives.

Other women, who have had no one to advise them, can find out for themselves what a great help it can be to them in building up and strengthening run-down systems, by simply giving Cardui a fair trial.

Pretty Country Home Generously shared With Guest Group

All in blue and yellow were the charming appointments of a bridge luncheon which Mrs. Edith Ritter planned and presented Saturday afternoon when the country home of her sister, Mrs. Benny Osterman at El Toro was thrown wide to the friendly guest group.

Scotch broom's golden glory and the deep blue of cornflowers were to be seen in every coil of vantage and amidst the floral decorations walked in the company of the snow-white linens and dainty china. Centering each table was a candle either in blue or yellow, each candle wearing a frilly tulle bow of the complementary color. The delectable menu was served in four courses.

Bridal offered the after-luncheon diversion and when scores were tallied, Mrs. Earl Abbey was found to have been most skillful, while Mrs. Stella Franzen received consolation. Attractive gifts were wrapped and tied in the chosen colors yellow and blue.

Sharing the happy afternoon with Mrs. Ritter and enjoying her sister's home, were Mrs. Inez McBay, Mrs. Jessie Boyd, Mrs. Helen Abbey, Mrs. Alice Taubey, Mrs. Vivian Huffman, Mrs. Stella Franzen, Mrs. Evelyn Cray, Mrs. Emma Dietrich and the Misses Esther Jean Davis, Marie Munger and Gladys Campbell.

In addition to the members a few guests are expected to attend the meeting, invitations bearing the insignia of the society having been issued by the officers to a chosen group.

Annual reports of officers and committee chairmen will be followed by the ceremony of installing officers for the coming year. The formal program will conclude with music after which the remainder of the afternoon will be devoted to an informal reception when the new officers will greet members and guests.

Piano Recital

Tonight will usher in the first of two interesting piano recitals at which Miss Arline Birchard of 401 East Washington street, will present different groups of her piano pupils at the music room of the Chandler Music store on West Fourth street.

The entire program will be played from memory and the selections have been made very wisely that the interested friends may watch the advancement of the young people. On the first evening the smaller pupils will appear and the numbers chosen will be very attractive in a musical way and well-suited to their youth.

The second program will be that of tomorrow night at the same place and at the same hour of 8 o'clock. It will begin with the selections of younger pupils but will conclude with the advanced pupils playing from such composers as MacDowell, Godard, Boccherini, Haydn, Dvorak and other famous masters of piano composition.

Assisting artists will be Miss Emma Lena Richards, talented young violinist who will play Bohm's "Serenade" on tonight's program and Miss Anna Huscroft, an interesting reader who tomorrow night will present "The Fairy."

On tonight's program the young pianists will be Harold Richards, Margaret Baxter, Julieanne Wolven, Lloyd Gibbs, Helen Lowe, William Lowe, Louise Goble, Genevieve Goble, Wauna Bolton, Elizabeth McClure, Virginia Motley, Franklin Davis, Mary Tuthill, and Winifred Triplett.

On tomorrow night's program the young people appearing will be the little Goble sisters, Genevieve and Louise, Robert McFadden, Evelyn Griset, Virginia Motley, Earl Motley, Winifred Triplett, Franklin Davis, William Gibbs, Winona Humphrey, Helen Mae Bower, Arthur Jacques, Norma Buck, De Estine Finn, Esther Bailey and Eva Dean Caskey.

Joint Recital.
Ebell auditorium will be the scene of an extremely interesting musical feature next Thursday night when two Santa Ana Artist-teachers will join in presenting some of their talented young pupils—students of both voice and piano. Madame Manuela V. Budrow, the "Spanish Nightingale," and Miss Carolyn Haughton, one of the city's prominent teachers of pianoforte, will be co-hostesses upon the occasion and have issued a cordial invitation to all friends and music lovers to be present.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock and each teacher will introduce a group of her advanced pupils in numbers both varied and interesting.

Holiday Entertaining By Santa Anas at Forest Home

Forest Home, that sylvan retreat so beloved of Santa Anas, was the mecca toward which dozens of local folk turned their footsteps for the Memorial day week-end, devoting their time there to the variety of attractions which the spot holds forth as irresistible lure to city dwellers.

Trails beckoned to piney woods and flowery mountain slopes. Rippling streams sang siren songs to the city-worn; a limpid pool of ice-cold water delighted the hardy swimmers; speckled trout flashed through the streams and enticed amateur Isaac Waltons; and at the Inn, the wide verandas, excellent music and smooth dancing floor summed up all enjoyment for devotees of the dance.

At their cabin, "Fern Bank," the Hervey T. Truebloods were entertaining guests as were Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Paul at their attractive place.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Kingreys and their friends formed another lively group.

In a cabin at Torrey's Camp were several Santa Anas who went up Friday evening and were increased in number by later arrivals. Mr. and Mrs. Nat Neff and their two small daughters, Natalie and Betty, accompanied with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Boyle and their youngsters, Dolly and Master Robert were the first to seek the retreat. On Saturday they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Knox and their young daughter Marjory and yesterday George Wells and his little daughter Pauline completed the friendly group.

Hiking, fishing and dancing were some of the Forest Home pleasures they enjoyed, and it was with reluctance that they bade a temporary farewell until later vacation days.

All the canyons adjacent to Forest Home were filled with holiday-makers over the week-end. The Valley of the Falls, that new tract just opened to cabin-seekers, was especially popular. It was said that several Santa Anas had purchased lots and would soon build.

Decorative appointments of the home and the luncheon tables were all in a patriotic color scheme commemorative of Memorial day. Even the flowers used so lavishly, repeated the tri-color.

Business meeting followed immediately after luncheon was served and election of officers resulted in Mrs. J. G. Rose as assistant leader with Mrs. May; Mrs. C. Lurker, treasurer and Miss Norma Wingood, secretary.

Business disposed of, the section members enjoyed a musical program. Young Marion Nau whose skill as a violinist delights his friends, played two numbers, "Der Schoderhaide" by Keler-Bela, and "Hungarian Dance" by Brahms. Mrs. Queena Crane Kiling accompanied him. Mrs. Jules Hilton presented three of her dance pupils in clever costume numbers, Lorraine Wheeler in a Russian dance; Muriel Tramel in a jazz toe dance and Thelma Shippe in the spring dance.

Miss Katherine Stewart of Anaheim played for the young people and also added two delightful piano solos to the program.

Miss Stewart, with her mother, Mrs. O. E. Stewart, shared guest-honors with Mrs. W. H. Harrison, club curator. The final meeting of the section ere vacation season will be in honor of the husbands and will probably take the form of a dinner dance.

Dixie Folk to Unveil Monument

Many Santa Ana and Orange county folk whose love goes out to the battle-scarred Confederate veterans of the Civil War, will journey to Hollywood Wednesday afternoon to attend the unveiling of the monument erected in Hollywood cemetery to the Confederate soldiers who now rest and will eventually rest in the Pacific coast.

The monument is a tribute from Camp No. 770, United Confederate Veterans of Los Angeles, and other southerners of Southern California. General William C. Harrison as chairman of the memorial committee from the camp, has issued invitations to all Dixie friends to attend the unveiling at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Victor Montgomery of this city was chairman of the Orange county division raising funds for the monument and Mrs. Douglas, who like Mrs. Montgomery, is a past state president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, was chairman of the general state committee of women.

The southern folk have been working for over a year to complete the necessary sum and now with the unveiling, comes the splendid news that the entire thing is paid for.

The beautiful gifts were presented as a basket of laundry, and all the guests gathered close to watch the bride examine each article. Pastel tinted appointments in the diningroom, a dainty menu, floral decorations of marked charm and quaint favors for the guests were other features of an unusually pretty party.

Santa Anas to Take Fullerton Maid As Bride

A pending wedding of June which will be of keen interest to friends in both Santa Ana and Fullerton, will be that of Frank Harwood, son of the late W. B. Wood, 1611 Durant street, to Miss Vivian Wiedebach, daughter of Mrs. Rachel Christner Wiedebach of Fullerton.

The wedding was announced as the date of the nuptials which will be followed by a motor honeymoon. The young people plan to go as far north as Seattle and returning, will make their home in Los Angeles where Mr. Harwood has charge of a Standard Oil station at Exposition and Vermont avenues.

Their betrothal was recognized in a delightful manner late last week when Miss Wiedebach, expecting to spend a quiet evening with her sisters at the J. G. Paul home in Fullerton, found a merry group of friends assembled to shower her with good wishes in the event and had a lively program of games and entertaining features which included a mock wedding of diverting features.

The beautiful gifts were presented as a basket of laundry, and all the guests gathered close to watch the bride examine each article. Pastel tinted appointments in the diningroom, a dainty menu, floral decorations of marked charm and quaint favors for the guests were other features of an unusually pretty party.

BEACH CITY TO DEFEND RIGHT TO BAN WELLS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 1.—The city of Huntington Beach will be called upon to defend the right of a municipality to forbid the drilling of oil wells within its corporate limits, it was announced today, following action of the state supreme court sitting in San Francisco.

The supreme court ordered a demurrer sustained by the Los Angeles courts set aside and that the case of the Pacific Palisades association against the city of Huntington Beach be tried on its merits.

The question had been pending before the courts since November, 1922. The Pacific Palisades association at that time brought suit against the city of Huntington Beach, when the city passed an ordinance prohibiting the drilling of oil in certain sections of the town. In its suit, the Pacific Palisades association alleged that the restricted district was mostly vacant and unoccupied territory. It contended that there was no reason for making a restricted area, and also alleged that the matter was "spite work" on the part of the city because the Pacific Palisades association moved to another city.

The city of Huntington Beach will base its defense on the proposition that the drilling of oil wells in the restricted district would be a menace to public health and safety and would increase danger from accidents, fire and explosions.

The Pacific Palisades property is located between Palm and Orange avenues, and Eleventh and Thirteenth streets. There is about 14 acres in the tract. The restricted area is bounded by Palm avenue on the north, Twenty-third street on the west, the ocean on the south and First street on the east. One oil well is said to be located across the street from Pacific Palisades association property.

The Pacific Palisades association is a Methodist organization, which acquired the land for the purpose of holding a camp. The land was leased to a Los Angeles man named Hurst, but no wells were ever drilled on the property.

FORMER SUPERINTENDENT OF ANAHEIM SCHOOLS ASKS FOR REDUCTION OF 5-YEAR TERM

ANAHEIM, June 1.—For his assistance to the government in procuring conviction of J. U. Hemmi, Torrance real estate man, charged with receiving stolen funds, J. R. Abernathy, former Anaheim school superintendent, will ask a reduction of his five-year sentence to Fort Leavenworth penitentiary. Abernathy was sentenced for a $25,000 mail robbery at Anaheim. Hemmi assisted him in hiding part of the loot.

This was made known today with the announcement that Abernathy is preparing a petition, which will be favorably recommended by his prosecutor, Russell Graham, former assistant United States district attorney.

Abernathy testified on behalf of the government at Hemmi's trial, which followed Abernathy's conviction on the mail theft charge. Hemmi was sentenced to seven months in the Orange county jail at Santa Ana and will be released this month. Abernathy got a five-year term in federal prison. J. Floyd Findlay, confederate of Abernathy in the mail robbery, pleaded guilty and escaped with a sentence of eleven months. He is now at liberty. In view of the leniency shown the others, there is a disposition to favor a reduction of Abernathy's sentence, according to United States District Attorney S. W. McNabb.

After Abernathy and his confederates staged the mail robbery in December, 1923, Abernathy was said to have brought a portion of the money to Hemmi, who had been an attorney in Anaheim and had moved to Torrance. Hemmi buried the money for Abernathy in the rear yard at the Hemmi home. Later, on learning of its origin, he apprised the authorities of its whereabouts.

The government, however, was not ready to believe him guiltless, and he was indicted and tried, the jury finding him guilty.

SAILOR ARRESTED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

FULLERTON, June 1.—Earl Meyers, age 21 years, a sailor, returning to San Diego, was arrested by Officer H. A. Mereness of La Habra on a charge of possession of liquor, and brought to the Fullerton city jail. He is being held here, and will appear before Justice of the Peace H. E. Hart today in answer to the charge.

"I'm getting tired of paying fines," said Herbert Moore, of Pomona, to Justice of the Peace H. E. Hart, of La Habra, when arrested for speeding, "and I think I'll take a jail sentence."

Judge Hart complied with the man's request by giving him choice of a $10 fine or spending five days in the Orange county jail. Moore admitted that he had the $10, but refused to pay. He said that he needed the rest anyway.

He went to jail.

Charged with possession of liquor, F. F. Mashburn, a truck driver, was arrested by Officers Martin and Mereness of La Habra, and brought to Fullerton to the city jail to be held for his trial before Justice H. E. Hart today. He was released after furnishing $50 bail.

FOUNDING OF LAGUNA BEACH IS DESCRIBED

LAGUNA BEACH, June 1.—The following concerning early days in Laguna Beach was contributed to a local weekly newspaper by Thomas B. Stephenson:

"It would seem fitting that some account of the starting of Laguna Beach should be preserved for all time. To this end I am writing this article.

"In June, 1883, Captain B. B. Handy, O. T. Dyer and B. F. White of Riverside, Cal., came down to Laguna Beach with the idea of finding a summer resort for Riverside people. They bought 40 acres of land up the canyon where the spring was; for then as now, water was the sine qua non of Laguna Beach.

"Captain Handy bought 75 feet on the brow of the hill to the south of the Laguna hotel and built himself a home immediately. Mr. Dyer bought the property adjoining the hotel on the south and built a home. Mr. White did not long thereafter and did not build in Laguna. Soon after that the following named Riverside people bought property here and built cottages here. Approximately in order named: H. M. Streeter, S. H. Ferris, Charles H. Low, G. D. Cunningham and G. B. Norton. Water was hauled to these early settlers in barrels from the springs. Our Joseph S. Thurston supplied these early settlers and others with fruits and vegetables from his Aliso Canyon ranch."

COMPOSER AIDS IN COMBATTING LAGUNA BLAZE

LAGUNA BEACH, June 1.—One of America's famous woman composers helped to fight a grass fire Sunday afternoon that threatened the homes of some well known artists and writers, and that burned over about 50 acres before the fire was arrived.

Anna Priscilla Risher, whose name is on nearly 200 compositions has built her home in the foothills where several painters have studios. Miss Risher and her mother were the first to notice the blaze and smoke and, giving a hurried call to neighbors, Miss Risher grabbed a pail of water and some old rugs and started for the fire, beating the blaze out in a futile effort to stop the onward rush of the fire. The fire department soon arrived, bringing the chemical engine. Half the male population of the town rushed up the hill.

The fire was finally put out, but not until it had burned within 15 feet of a house under course of construction, had blackened the hills over about 50 acres and had put terror into the hearts of the owners of the homes directly in the path of the blaze. A new hillside road that has just been built served as a fire break in two directions but the flames leaped across the road in a few places. A call was sent to Santa Ana for help and Deputy Fire Warden G. W. Harris of Trabuco was sent over from the sheriff's office to take charge.

Harris said that the new road, acting as a firebreak, saved a big fire that would probably have burned many miles into the hills and that would have required a great number of men to handle.

The studio home of Norman Chamberlain, the artist was directly in the path of the fire as was the just-completed place of Oscar Knutson, a portrait painter. Lee Hayes, another artist, has his home in the same group. Earl Bepine has just moved into his new home near the Norman Chamberlain place. It, too, would have been destroyed if the flames had not been controlled.

Other places in the vicinity were Miss Risher's beautiful new residence, Fred Mott's home, the grade school house and a place that has just been finished belonging to J. W. Bishop, state insurance appraiser of San Bernardino. Peter Doughty, who is just starting to build his house had the lumber on the ground and the flames came within 15 feet. Snakes and rabbits ran ahead of the fire, the snakes taking refuge under the houses and garages wherever possible. The rabbits scurried, terror-stricken in all possible directions. Deputy Fire Warden Harris and his assistants made a thorough inspection after the fire was out and didn't leave until safety for Laguna Beach was assured.

So far, it is impossible to find out what caused the fire, although the fire warden thinks that some one had probably intended to burn off a bit of his land and, that in a high wind, the blaze got away from his control.

Let Holmes protect your homes.

Beach Trustees To Set Date For Recall Vote

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 1.—An ordinance providing for the calling of a special election to allow a vote on the proposed recall of two trustees, will probably be brought up at the regular meeting of the city board here tonight.

The matter was placed in the hands of city attorney L. W. Blodgett at the last meeting of the board with instructions to prepare the necessary legal papers in connection with the calling of an election.

Other matters, including several street petitions, are also expected to come before the board tonight. It is expected that a petition asking that Olive street be paved for its entire length, and also requesting that the name of the street be changed from Olive to Broadway, will be presented.

LAGUNA BEACH CLUB SPONSORS FIESTA PLANS

LAGUNA BEACH, June 1.—A Spanish fiesta that will attract tourists from all over the Southland is being planned by the members of the Community club for August.

For at least two weeks preceding the fiesta the people of Laguna Beach are going to dress in Spanish costume to catch the real atmosphere of the old time rancho and the fiesta de la caudal.

Ambling leisurely down the boulevard will be seen pretty señoritas with their mantillas draped seductively over their high combs that will have to be tied on because nearly every señorita in Laguna Beach has bobbed hair.

But, anyhow, the combs will hold the mantillas. Then there will be husky men in weighty sombreros and heavy señoras in still heavier jewels and even the muchachos and the muchachitas will wear the Spanish regalia when children were loaded down with heavy golden chains and allowed few privileges.

Everything that can be done to give a Spanish atmosphere to Laguna Beach will be done by the committee who are to be responsible for the big event, according to one of the committee members.

There will be booths for the display of the great works of art that are thought out and executed in this wonder village—the home of artists, writers, and men and women of unusual culture and travel; there will be pageants, feasts, dances; a carnival of fun is to be launched on a sea of Spanish inheritance—a thing that is as surely California as the big trees or the amber hills.

The idea of this fiesta is to put Laguna Beach on the map and the Community club is resolved that it shall be done. Frank B. Champion, the president of the club, will appear in a costume that will put the Shah of Persia to shame and will make Valentino green with envy; one Laguna Beach matron, who has been in the limelight for many years as a portrayal of unusual characters, will don the outfit that was worn when a famous Russian court painter did a portrait of her, and which was also worn in many successful productions, the costume being a fine example of the picture in the Chicago Art Institute; one very well known and fastidious gentleman, who in his spare time puts over great resort schemes, is quite decided upon a Spanish pirate make up; and so it goes—everywhere one hears the story of what this person or that will wear when Laguna Beach enters upon its Spanish period next August.

Plans are not finished as yet for the actual working out of the fiesta but the thing is well under way and the committee will have more to tell very soon.

Advertising of Lights Tourney To Be National

NEWPORT BEACH, June 1.—National publicity for the Tournament of Lights on Newport bay has been promised by the California Development association. During his recent visit to the northern part of the state, Harry Welch, secretary of the Orange County Harbor chamber of commerce, discussed this event with the officials of the California Development association and as a result, the novel feature will be mentioned frequently in the stories of events for California festival year.

Recently there has been sent out through the East 500,000 leaflets mentioning some of the important attractions to be staged throughout California during 1925 and the Tournament of Lights was selected to be included in the list.

Photographs of the affair and items giving details regarding this unique event are the only one of its kind on the California Coast, are going to the California Development association in San Francisco to spread the word still further.

The Tournament of Lights for 1925 will be held on Newport bay on the evening of August 1. Many beautifully illuminated and decorated boats of many kinds will enter the Tournament of Lights, which will parade over Newport bay.

CHILDREN ARE TAUGHT SAFETY RIDING WHEELS

NEW YORK, June 1.—There probably is no other industry in the United States doing so much for the welfare of the children as the bicycle industry, according to H. J. McCarthy, executive secretary of the Cycle Trades of America, in a statement issued today from headquarters at 35 Warren street. Field men are sent out to educate the youngsters who ride bicycles. These field men visit schools and instruct the children as to their responsibility for their own safety by teaching the correct methods of riding their bicycles and by giving demonstrations and talks.

Realizing that nothing is to be more regretted than accidents to children, on foot or on wheels, the officials of the Cycle Trades of America assign these men to visit the schools in certain prescribed routes, spending a week in each city, educating the pupils to a proper understanding of traffic rules and signals so that they may heed both and properly give the latter.

Bikes Bear Safety Tag
As a supplement to this work of the field representatives, all bicycle dealers are also called upon and urged to do their part in instructing the children along the lines of riding in safety, and are requested to see to it that no new bicycle leaves their establishments unless a small tag, issued by the bicycle manufacturers, is attached to the handlebar. "Observe the Law," is the caption over the timely rules printed on this tag, which the rider is urged to heed. Some of these rules are:

- 1.—The bicycle is a vehicle, and therefore entitled to the same rights and privileges on the highways as the motor-driven vehicles or automobiles.
- 2.—Observe the laws governing the use of the highways.
- 3.—Never ride on the wrong side of the road.
- 4.—Do not "hitch on" to any vehicle.
- 5.—Equip your bicycle with a bell or other warning device, as you must remember you are riding on a noiseless vehicle.
- 6.—Use a lamp at night for your own protection.
- 7.—Do not carry anyone on your handlebars.
- 8.—Do not ride through a group of persons waiting to board (or get off) a streetcar.

St. Onge Greatest Exponent
So successful has this educational work been that municipal authorities, police departments, and school officials everywhere have time and again expressed their unqualified approval of the good it accomplishes and declare it to be of genuine importance to the welfare of all children in these days of traffic congestion.

The limit of effectiveness is recognized in work of this character, McCarthy says, but it is believed by the Cycle Trades officials that in most cities there already are statutes which cover many of the rules enumerated, and

Figures Reveal Bicycle Output Grows Steadily

For those people who have a liking for statistics, the following table, which shows the rise and decline in popularity of the bicycle in the United States, will be of interest. These figures are compiled from the census reports:

Year	Number	Value
1890	1,208,960	$2,568,326
1900	2,253,909	$1,915,908
1904	225,360	3,203,505
1909	168,824	2,436,996
1914	299,029	3,757,318
1918	470,675	12,277,341
1921	215,464	3,559,779
1923	480,077	16,708,207

The foregoing figures will illustrate that, with the exception of the year 1921, which was marked by general business depression throughout the country, production has been steadily on the increase since 1909.

It is their opinion that if they were strictly enforced by encouragement from local organizations it would be of great benefit to all concerned.

Probably the best-known bicycle man in the country today is Fred St. Onge, one of the field staff. It is said that he has devoted practically a lifetime to the art of bicycle riding. He has ridden bicycles for more than 30 years and during that time has been in almost every representative city of the world. He has made a study of the bicycle how to ride it gracefully, and how to cover long continuous distances without fatigue. In the heyday of the bicycle he is said to have conducted one of the largest riding schools in the United States, during which time it was his fortune to teach a great many notable people how bicycles should be ridden. Helen Keller, famous blind and deaf woman, whose accomplishments have caused thousands to marvel, was one of St. Onge's most adept pupils.

Riders Steadily Increasing
Little does the average reader realize that thousands of children ride bicycles to and from school every day in all parts of the country. It is because of this fact that, as part of the safety program of the cycle people, valuable little booklets containing hints and advice on road deportment, traffic signals, and how to ride safely and well are distributed in each of the cities. To see four or five hundred bicycles neatly parked under sheds or in school cellars with stalls for each bicycle is not an uncommon sight. The number of children attending school in this fashion is on the increase chiefly because of the many miles of smooth, clean, well-paved roads, streets, and boulevards everywhere, in contrast with the crude and uncomfortable gravel roads of years ago.

SOUSA STAYS YOUNG BY RIDING BICYCLE

John Philip Sousa, the noted band-master and composer of marches, stays young by riding a bicycle every morning. Sousa is 70 years young, and at Miami, Fla., you can set your watch by his regular morning appearance on the tree-lined paths of that city.

Another youngster of Miami, Willis Nelson Ryan, caretaker of the Florida Society of Arts and Science building, also has the cycle habit. Mr. Ryan, who is 55, claims his bicycle has carried him more miles than the oldest car in service.

For many years he was under a circus "big top" as an acrobat, and it's a bad day indeed when he does not take his daily workout on his bicycle.

"Motorists need not pity me as I pump my way along the streets," says Mr. Ryan. "It may be necessary for me to sweat occasionally, but it's a healthy sweat, and I do not have to dodge up an alley to keep from meeting the garage owner the first of the month."

AS BALL PLAYERS, THEY'RE GOOD PUGS

Warrants charging battery were today issued against six members of the Westminster and Tustin baseball teams, of the Orange County Summer League, following a fracas on the diamond, one mile west of Garden Grove, yesterday afternoon, when R. B. Workside, rancher, is alleged to have been beaten up by the players.

The men, whose names are not known to officers, had not been arrested late today, but it was understood that warrants would be served immediately. The players are listed as John Does, Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6, in the warrants.

According to the sheriff's office version of the affair, several foul balls, knocked over the back fence, during the course of the game, fell into Workside's alfalfa field. The players were kept busy recovering them. Workside is alleged to have become irate at seeing his alfalfa trampled underfoot, and in an effort to save his hay, confiscated the balls, as they came over.

The players, in turn, seeing the danger of the game coming to an abrupt halt, for lack of balls, left the lot and went after those that Workside had in his possession. Workside is alleged to have defended himself with a pitchfork, but, according to the complaint, he was beaten up.

Workside was at the sheriff's office today, exhibiting his injuries.

3 CONFESS TO MARY PICKFORD KIDNAPING PLOT

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Plans to prosecute the confessed conspirators to a dramatic plot to kidnap Mary Pickford were under way today at the district attorney's office.

Armed with confessions from all three suspects in the sensational conspiracy, Chief of Detectives George K. Home went to the office of District Attorney Asa Keyes to arrange for a speedy prosecution. Keyes said he would probably take the case to the county grand jury before night.

C. A. Stevens, alleged "brains" of the plot to kidnap "America's Sweetheart" and hold her for $250,000 ransom in a lonely cabin in the mountains, was the last of the trio of alleged conspirators to confess. He broke down early today, after 24 hours of intensive questioning.

His story, according to Chief of Detectives George K. Home, corroborated the confessions of Claude A. Holcomb, and Adrian James Wood, former truck drivers. The alleged scheme to abduct the famous film star was one of the boldest conspiracies in criminal annals, in the opinion of Captain Home. Its details read like the scenario of a movie thriller, and were so sensational and daring that all Hollywood whippersnads at first it was merely another pipe-dream of an ambitious press-agent.

The alleged conspirators were arrested Saturday night. According to Captain Home, they were about to carry out their daring scheme that night, and were taken into custody in the shadow of the Pickford studio.

Disguised as Shriners, the would-be kidnapers intended to waylay Miss Pickford and her chauffeur as they left the studio for the star's Beverly Hills home, according to the alleged confessions. The chauffeur was to be blackjacked, and killed if necessary, and Miss Pickford forced into the kidnaper's machine and taken to a cabin in the Tujunga mountains, where she would be held until Douglas Fairbanks paid $200,000 for her release.

Captain Home said the original plans of the trio included a scheme to abduct Pola Negri, Jackie Cooper, and a grandson of E. L. Doheny, oil magnate.

The chief of sleuths said he and his aides had shadowed their suspects for nearly a month. The Fairbanks-Pickford home during this time was under heavy guard of special officers, and "Doug", with a six-shooter, kept constant watch over Mary while she carried on her work at the studio.

"I was ready for them," Doug grinned today. "When the police told us about the plot to kidnap Mary I discarded my bow and arrow and loaded up with a gat."

"Doug has been pretty nervous," admitted Mary. "I wasn't frightened a bit because I knew both he and the police were guarding me, but I am sure glad they have the men under arrest. I hope they do not make it too hard for them."

Court Notes

Given Divorce

Mrs. Mabel Roby of Santa Ana, whose husband Carl Roby attempted suicide recently when she spurned his plea for a reconciliation, was granted a divorce decree Friday on charges of cruelty, based partly upon the alleged attempt to take his own life.

Roby, it was said, slashed his arm with a knife and was found semi-conscious on the doorstep of his wife's neighbor. He recovered.

Mrs. Roby's suit was heard by Superior Judge Z. B. West, who granted her custody of a minor child and ordered Roby to pay $20 per month for the child's support.

Suit Is Dismissed

Dismissal of a suit brought by Bautista Cortez against the Orange County Rock and Gravel company, on account of a traffic accident at McPherson, near Orange, last September was announced today. The case had been set for trial before Superior Judge Z. B. West but, by stipulation, it was dismissed "without prejudice" to the filing of a new action. Cortez asked $10,600 damages.

Divorce Granted

Lester S. Wilken today held a decree of divorce from Marguerita Wilken, following hearing of his case before Superior Judge R. Y. Williams Friday. Wilken charged desertion. Attorney Clara Cushman represented him in the proceedings.

Cruelty Charged

Desertion and cruelty were charges made by Mrs. Gladys V. Ellis, who won a decree of divorce from Frank E. Ellis in Superior Judge F. C. Drumm's court Friday. Attorneys Allen and Lyon, of Fullerton, were counsel for the plaintiff.

To Ask New Trial

A new trial will be asked in the case of Anna Angelo, of Tujunga, who was awarded $5000 damages 19, against the Motor Transit company as the result of a collision between two stages. It was learned today.

Attorneys Bickler, Smith and Parke, representing the stage company, filed notice with Superior Judge R. Y. Williams that they will present the motion for a new trial at 2 p. m. June 19. It will be asked chiefly on the ground that excessive judgment was allowed the plaintiff by the jury.

Anna Angelo, who conducts a variety store at Tujunga, was a passenger on a Pickwick stage that collided with a Motor Transit stage at Fifth and French streets, this city. She sued for $15,781 damages. Attorneys Bryce P. Gibbs and W. H. Thomas represented her in the proceedings.

Would Settle Claim

R. C. McMillan, local contractor today applied to the superior court on behalf of his son, Carl, 9, for permission to settle a claim against M. C. Miranda for $125. The McMillan boy was injured when struck by Miranda's automobile January 19.

ROUND TABLE KNIGHTS HONOR SOLDIER DEAD

Under festoons of red, white and blue, with the tables decorated with small individual flags for each guest, and with impressive ceremonies exemplifying the ideals of their organization, the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table, at their weekly luncheon meeting Friday, at St. Ann's Inn, paid tribute to the memory of the nation's soldier dead.

A fitting program, taking proper cognizance of the significance of Memorial day, had been prepared for the occasion. It included patriotic songs, eloquent eulogies and musical selections in tune with the spirit of the occasion.

The principal address of the day was delivered by Attorney B. Z. McKinney, who touched upon the spiritual meaning of Memorial day.

Contributing to the success of the program were vocal numbers rendered by Robert Brown, whose baritone voice brought down the house, which forced several encores.

He was accompanied by Miss Ruth Armstrong. Another pleasing number was the appearance of T. Clayton, whose vocal solos were well received. Mrs. E. J. Thompson accompanied the singer.

Secretary W. I. Stewart reported on arrangements that are being made by the Southern California tables for the national convention, to be held September 17, 18 and 19, in Long Beach.

According to Stewart, an executive committee, composed of the president of the five Southern California tables, will have charge of the general arrangements.

The question of securing a uniform type of evening dress for social functions was taken up and referred to a special committee.

Lineburger Will Sail for Orient

LOS ANGELES, June 1.—Congressman Walter Lineburger will sail for the Orient with his wife and two daughters on June 11 for a business and pleasure tour.

Congressman Lineburger said he planned to spend two or three months in Japan and China and make a study of political and economic conditions in these countries.

"This trip will cost me between $2500 and $3000," Congressman Lineburger said, "but the government is not paying a penny of it—I really can't afford it, but I feel it is my duty to make a study of conditions in the Orient and give the public the benefit of my research."

Lamp Post Support Invited from Town

ORANGE, June 1.—A begimed and ragged derelict, who had spent the greater part of the last two days leaning against a lamp post in the business section of the city, left town Saturday upon the invitation of Chief of Police M. E. Jemison, and started for Los Angeles, where, he said, he had employment as a restaurant "chef."

The man, whose name was not known, came to Orange a few days ago from Santa Ana, the police chief learned. His queer efforts to keep a certain lamp post in an upright position, led a number of persons about the city to believe that he was mentally unbalanced, and he was reported to Jemison.

The man had only 35 cents in his pocket when questioned, and asked where he spent the nights. He said that he slept in the fields. He told Chief Jemison, when the officer asked him if he didn't want to go to the county hospital, that he had been there before and didn't want to go back.

"I want to go to Los Angeles," he said, "because I've got work there as cook in a restaurant." "No more L. A. short order booths for me," commented the chief, when he returned from giving the man a "lift" to the city limits.

Leader of Purity Squad Defendant In Affection Case

SANTA BARBARA, June 1.—Mrs. Elizabeth Dumaine, president of the Santa Barbara League of Women Voters, was defendant today in a suit for 100,000 damage for alleged alienation of the affections of Marion McAllister Clarke, wealthy New Yorker.

The complaint, filed by Mrs. Ada M. Clark, cited many alleged acts of misconduct between Clarke and Mrs. Dumaine. Mrs. Clarke claims the local clubwoman "enticed" her husband by offers of employment. The Clarkes were married in New York 18 years ago, and lived happily until Mrs. Dumaine's influence brought about their estrangement, it was charged.

Santa Barbara clubwomen, led by Mrs. Dumaine, recently carried on a campaign against salacious literature sold on local news stands.

State Bolshevism Would Create Joy

PARIS, June 1.—The fussy old psychological pessimists who are continually feeling the pulse of Paris are again doing their head-shaking and bemoaning the fact that the gay capital has lost its gaiety and that Parisians have forgotten how to smile, let alone laugh.

Some queer remedies are suggested. One leading writer, who ought to know better, suggests the light side of Paris be bolshevized and the source of humor and entertainment be nationalized or disciplined for the benefit of collectivity. He would create commissaries for public amusement after the fashion set by Moscow in other things.

His proposal is that the authorities should begin by appointing a dictator of public pleasures, a minister of collective rejoicings and an understudy for common high jinks. The funny thing is that this weird precursor is not, politically, a bolshevist. He thinks there would be no difficulty in finding men to accept jobs organizing public amusements, plenty of latent talent being available among the saddened professional humorists.

COUNTY LOAN AGENCIES ARE HIGHLY LAUDED

A. E. Falch, state building and loan commissioner, visited the Santa Ana building and loan associations today. His visit to Santa Ana is in line with his plan of visiting all the building and loan associations of California this year.

Mr. Falch is pleased with the work done by the local associations in urging people to begin systematic saving to achieve ownership of homes. There are two building and loan associations in Santa Ana, the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, O. M. Robbins, secretary, and the Santa Ana Building and Loan association, Cotton Mather, secretary. These associations now have assets amounting to $1,806,552, as compared with $1,510,921, a year ago.

"Like other building and loan associations of California," said Mr. Falch, "all the Orange county associations are making remarkable progress and are leaders in the movement of community up-building. Many new homes have been built in Orange county through the assistance of these associations and hundreds of people have become better citizens through the lessons of thrift and saving which they have been taught as members of the associations."

There are seven building and loan associations in Orange county. The combined assets of the associations in 1924 were $3,800,238, as compared with their present assets of $4,535,361.

There are now 160 building and loan associations in California as compared with 138 associations a year ago. The total assets of the associations will be about $143,000,000 by the close of this year, a growth of about $38,000,000. "There are no safer financial institutions in California than the building and loan associations," said Mr. Falch. "They are governed by stringent laws, which are rigidly enforced."

"There has not been a single failure among the building and loan associations in California in 12 years, a remarkable record. Throughout the United States, the safety of building and loan associations is proven by records. Among the 11,000 associations in the United States, with four billion dollars assets and having 7,000,000 members, there was less than $250,000 loss from failure in one year, or seven one-thousandths of one per cent of the assets. Remembering the safe service the associations are performing, and the fact that they are yearly adding 364,000 homes to the country and that the savings accounts placed with them are increasing about a billion dollars each year, it is apparent that these agencies are important factors in the development of the country."

The 9th of March next will be the one hundredth anniversary of the death of Mrs. Anna Barbauld, the once popular writer for children.

Mrs. Grace Howard will conduct her Free Cooking School class tomorrow at McFadden's.

40,000 TROOPS ARE HELD NEAR PEKING

PEKING, June 1.—General Feng Yu Hsiang is reported to be keeping 40,000 troops in semi-concealment near here.

The Manchurian general, Chang Tso Lin, reported headed for Peking, intends to pause at Tientsin, according to advices today.

(Chang Tso Lin recently threatened to stir up trouble at Peking, being dissatisfied with the settlement for paying the French Boxer indemnity. The foregoing dispatch may signify that Feng Yu Hsiang, who withdrew from Peking itself, is lying in wait for a possible clash with the Manchurian chieftain. This news, reaching Chang Tso Lin, may account for his pause at Tientsin.)

RUM RUNNERS

Bootleggers Declared to Have Been Successful In Evading Dry Officers

That at least 500 cases of whiskey were slipped through the blockade on the Orange county coast last week, and that a big load was landed near the locale of the Laguna-made movie, "The Lighthouse by the Sea," which had a rum-running plot, is the opinion of Laguna Beach officials, to whom reports were made Sunday of renewed activities in the face of the capture of three men and 255 cases of Scotch early last Thursday morning.

Reports were made to Judge L. V. Murphy, of Laguna Beach, that three trucks were seen on the Coast highway north of Laguna Beach, at dusk. The men who saw the trucks were unarmed and decided to not interfere. They were going away from Laguna Beach and couldn't make a report until they returned in the evening.

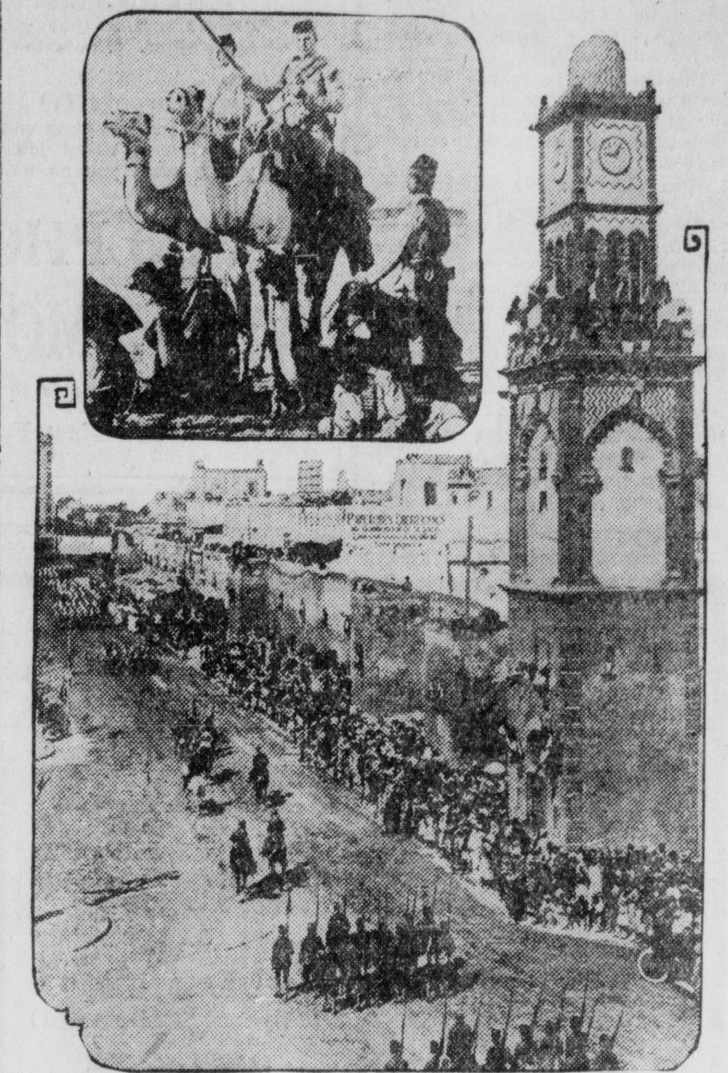

Take Advantage of Seizure
About two miles north of town, the highway runs down to within 15 feet of the beach. From Abilene point north, there is a stretch of beach several miles long. This has been well patrolled for two weeks, but for 48 hours last week the guard was not so heavy. It is believed that the rum runners took advantage of the excitement over the capture made by State Motorcycle Officer Walter Meyer, Judge Murphy and Constable F. E. Howell to make a bold dash for the shore, where the trucks awaited them.

The vigil has been renewed and the blockade is airtight, so far as can be learned.

According to local officials, the bootleggers buy Scotch whiskey from the boats at $25 a case of 12 quarts or 24 pints.

Financed By L. A. Man
The financing is done through one man in Los Angeles, according to stories told to police officers by captured bootleggers. This man collects the amount in advance and then gives an order to the boat to deliver so many cases to bearer. The rum boat is at least 60 miles out at sea and the bootlegger must take all the chances. After he gets his load, he must run two blockades, one by the coast guard in fast revenue cutters, and the other by state, county and local officers ashore. The transaction of the ringleader in Los Angeles is said to be entirely within the law. He acts merely as a commission merchant and the liquor is sold by an interchange on the high seas.

FATHER AND UNCLE DROWN
IN EFFORT TO SAVE GIRL, WHO FINALLY IS RESCUED

Giving their lives in an attempt to save the life of Violet Rohrs, 15 years old, who later was rescued, Philip Rohrs, 38, 522 North Greenleaf avenue, Whittier, Violet's father, and Walter Rohrs, 27, 2739 1/2 West Fifteenth street, Los Angeles, uncle of the child, died in the ocean within 60 yards of the shore at Crescent bay, Saturday afternoon. Philip Rohrs was the father of six children.

The bodies of both men were found an hour after the tragedy and a record run was made by a pulmotor crew from Newport Beach, but efforts to revive them were futile.

Violet Rohrs and Edward Bruckner, 27, of Los Angeles, a friend of the dead men who went to their rescue, were saved by A. J. White, a retired business man of Hollywood. Had it not been for the fact that White's boat was in bad condition and capsized, he might have saved at least one of the Rohrs brothers.

Relatives of Laguna Artist
Philip and Walter Rohrs were married to daughters of O. C. Kuban, Laguna Beach artist, and were visiting with Bruckner at the Kuban studio and residence in the Crescent Bay district. Late Saturday afternoon, the brothers and Bruckner, and Violet, eldest of the Rohrs children, went to the beach. At the east end of the crescent for which the bay is named, the beach ends at a cape projecting into the water. At the foot of the cliffs, the cape is composed of rocks. Violet swam toward the projecting rocks. She became exhausted and called for help. Her father immediately plunged into the water and the uncle, who could hardly swim, followed. Bruckner saw that the two men apparently were in difficulties and he started out to see what he could do. He, too, became exhausted and was scarcely able to keep himself afloat.

Mr. White was spending the week end at his summer home nearby with some guests. He was busy in the garage repairing an old boat. One of his guests noticed the men struggling and called to Mrs. White, who notified her husband. Guests helped him to take the boat down the cliffs to the beach. Mr. White was a member of a lifesaving crew in the east and launched the boat easily.

Boat Takes Water
But the winter sun had opened seams in the craft and it began to take water rapidly. By the time he reached Bruckner and Violet it capsized. Mr. White succeeded in getting the boat overturned. He pushed it to the girl and then the man so that they could hold on. In this way he got the pair to the rocks. They hauled the boat out and found that it had a hole

CHURCH SHOWS
STEADY GROWTH
IN LAST YEAR

Congregational Council Reports on Denomination's Activities In 1924

The report for the Congregational churches in the United States for the year 1924, just issued by the Rev. Charles E. Burton, D. D., secretary of the Congregational National council, and received here by the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the local church, discloses that the denomination had a very successful year.

One of the interesting features was disclosure that about 78,000 persons united with the church during the 12 months. This number has been exceeded only once in the history of the denomination, and that was in 1921, when there were 78,000 additions. The report says:

Excerpts From Report

"The number of additions during 1924 was well above the average for previous years. The yearly average for the decade, 1914-1923, was 57,100, while for the decade preceding, the yearly average was 58,000. The number for 1924 exceeded the 10-year average by 7000 and the 20-year average by 12,000. The number of additions during 1924 about equals the population of Peoria, Ill., San Diego, Calif., or Manchester, N. H.

"The removals from the church by death, transfer, and revision remained about the average figure for the previous 10 years. The number for 1924 is 56,000, and the 10-year average was 56,900.

"The net gain in membership of the denomination for 1924 was 17,827, and this has been exceeded only twice in the history of the churches, and is a 50 per cent increase above the 10-year average.

578,995 Members of Church

"The membership of the denomination, as of Dec. 31, 1924, was 578,995, which is approximately 100,000 more than the total population of Boston or Baltimore, and equals the combined population of the four states of Delaware, Wyoming, Vermont and Nevada. The denomination has more than doubled its net membership in 40 years, as in 1884 its membership was approximately 400,000. In doubling its membership in 40 years, it has kept pace with the growth in population, for the country as a whole has doubled in population in approximately the same years, 1885-1925.

"The number of churches at the end of the year was 5,630, a decrease of 36. There were 37 new churches formed during the year and 73 discontinued or merged. With an increasing membership and a decreasing number of churches, it is evident that the strong churches are growing stronger and that weak or competing churches are either being closed up or merged with other churches.

Property Values Grow
"Church property increased in value during the year to the sum of 12 million dollars, bringing the total value at the end of the year to $144,400,000. The invested funds held by the churches also increased $1,775,583, to a total of $14,119,481. The home expenses, that is, salaries, improvements, and other expenses of the congregation increased $1,245,916, to a total of over nineteen million dollars for the year. The benevolences were approximately $3,112,000.

The number of pastors for the year remained about constant; 88 were ordained, compared with 83 in the preceding year. The number of deaths in the ministry were 120, compared with 126 the preceding year. The average salary paid to pastors was $1929, which is an increase of $75 per year per pastor."

WELCOME EXTENDED
NEW ZION PASTOR

Members of the Zion Evangelical church of Santa Ana warmly greeted their new pastor, the Rev. E. J. Nichel, at services yesterday, when he delivered his first sermon to the congregation.

The subject of the morning sermon was "The Church, What It Stands For."

This week, the Rev. Mr. Nichel and family will move to Santa Ana. He comes here after three years with the Hollenbeck Heights church, Los Angeles. He will fill the position left vacant by the transfer of the Rev. G. A. Stierle to the pastorate of the Evangelical church at Porterville.

Booze, Mash and Still Seized In El Modena Raid

A small still, 50 gallons of mash and 25 gallons of "moonshine" whiskey were seized by Orange county officers Saturday afternoon, when a house in El Modena was raided. The owner of the illicit property was not at home and has not been arrested.

A report came to the sheriff's office that a young man in El Modena had imbibed too freely, had offered to "clear out" a pool room there, and finally had been strapped to his bed by members of his family after he had whipped his father.

Deputy Sheriffs Jesse Elliott, Joe Scott, Hank Warner and Louis Heffner immediately went to El Modena and located the place where the youth is alleged to have obtained the whiskey.

The still and equipment were taken to the Orange county jail.

ABANDON GALE TEST WELL ON IRVINE RANCH

The test well, which Hoyt S. Gale, of Los Angeles, has been drilling on the Irvine ranch, about two miles north of the Paulino well, of the Standard Oil company, has been abandoned at a depth of 2200 feet, it was learned today. The Standard's well was abandoned a few days ago, at a depth of 3350 feet.

Heavy formations of basalt and granite were encountered in both wells, it is understood. As these formations are foreign to oil production, further drilling was deemed futile.

The Standard has commenced building a derrick for a second test well, about three miles northwest of the Paulino site. The new location is looked upon with more favor than the Paulino and drilling operations will be watched with interest, it is expected.

LAKE ARROWHEAD
P. E. CAMP OPENED

Amid the scenic surroundings adjacent to Lake Arrowhead, the Pacific Electric employees' vacation camp opened to the company's 6500 workers and their families today. The camp will remain open until September 30, and early reservations point to an attendance exceeding that of last year, when 800 workers and their families spent their annual vacation leave at the company's mountain retreat.

The resort, which has been conducted by the company for eight years, is operated on a non-profit basis, charges being designed to cover only operating expenses. Several classes of accommodations are available, either tent cottages, dormitories or two-room bungalows. Employees may either prepare their own meals or take them in the company's cafe on the property. Daily motor launch trips on the lake and sightseeing bus trips are furnished free, as are other amusements, the only expense to employees being for food and lodging.

The camp covers a site of 16 acres, about one mile from Lake Arrowhead village, and represents an investment of about $85,000. About $45,000 has been spent on improvements and enlargements during the last three years.

N. B. Vickrey, manager of the Pacific Electric club, with a membership of 4000 employees, is in charge of camp activities.

NOTE INCREASE IN AMOUNT OF ORANGE COUNTY
TAX NOT PAID

About One-third More Parcels of Real Property Of-

LEVY IS UNPAID ON ABOUT 13,000 PIECES

Growth In Number, However, Does Not Have Monetary Significance

Delinquent tax lists for Orange county, to be published in the Register Tuesday will show an increase of about one-third over the lists of last year, it was announced today by County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb. This increase is in the number of property parcels. Comparative figures on total sums of delinquent taxes are not at present available, Lamb said.

This year's list, covering property on which the 1924 taxes have not been paid, includes probably 13,000 pieces, it is said, and breaks all records in that respect. County officials point out, however, that the list is not so "formidable" in point of monetary significance, as it appears, inasmuch as much of the delinquent property increases of recent years have arisen from numerous oil land subdivisions, which have multiplied the number of individual assessments greatly.

How Many Will Be Sold?
How many of these estimated 13,000 parcels will be "sold" to the state remains to be seen. Last year there were 8090 of the approximately 10,000 delinquent parcels sold to the state, representing unpaid 1923 taxes. Some of these have since been redeemed but the rest are included again in this year's delinquent list. The state is required to hold them five years before the property can be actually sold at auction, and taken from its original owner, Lamb stated.

For example, he said, only eight pieces of property will be sold at auction this year, having been on the delinquent list for five years. During the time the property stands as "sold" to the state, it really remains in possession of the delinquent taxpayer.

The steady and rapid rise of delinquent tax lists during the last five years, due to the activity in oil lots, was shown in figures presented today by County Auditor W. C. Jerome. Jerome's records show that 881 parcels of property were "sold" to the state for 1920 taxes, 916 were sold for 1921 taxes, 4232 parcels for 1922 and last year, 8090 were sold for 1923 taxes. This year's total will not be known until after July 1.

Penalty of 10 Per Cent
The taxpayer who allows his property to go delinquent for one year must pay a penalty of 10 per cent of his tax bill when redeeming it, besides seven per cent interest. At two years, the penalty is 20 per cent and interest, at three years it is 30 per cent and interest, at four years 40 per cent and interest and at the fifth year it reaches 50 per cent and interest. Then it is actually sold at auction.

Los Angeles Girl
First June Bride
In Orange County

The first June bride in Orange county was Miss Dorothy Mason, 19, of Los Angeles, who became Mrs. Stephen Holbrook within a few minutes after the marriage license bureau opened at 7:30 a. m. today.

When County Clerk J. M. Backs rattled his keys in the lock, he found two couples sitting on the steps, waiting for the courthouse to open. Miss Mason and Stephen Holbrook, 23, secured the first license.

Throughout the day other couples followed them into the license bureau and June got away to a flying start in its drive to set a new license record and to keep Orange county in ninth place among the nation's matrimonial mecca. The present record was set last June, when nearly 500 license were issued.

Husband Gets Decree
After filing a complaint for divorce, Mrs. Elsie Chace did not appear in court against her husband, Everett C. Chace, of Balboa, and the latter was granted a decree at the hearing late Friday before Superior Judge Z. B. West. Mrs. Chace had filed cruelty charges against her husband. He brought a cross-complaint charging desertion and produced testimony to show that Mrs. Chace had left her home, being dissatisfied with the house occupied by the couple at Balboa.

Was Girl Stolen?
Kidnaping Story
Baffles Police

Was a girl kidnaped on North Main street shortly after midnight, yesterday morning?

That is a question that Santa Ana police would like to have answered.

J. S. Nunn, 1914 North Main street, telephoned the police that two cars had stopped in front of his home and that a girl was transferred from one car to the other. She was protesting at the time, Nunn said, and he declared that he heard her call: "I want my mother. I want my mother."

Nunn rushed out and asked what was wrong, and was told by one of the men that "everything is all right."

Stage and Screen

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS
YOST—Vaudeville and "On Thin Ice," with Tom Moore.
WALKER—Vaudeville and "I'll Show You the Town," with Reginald Denny.
WEST END—"Friendly Enemies," with Weber and Fields.

"ON THIN ICE" CLOSING AT YOST TONIGHT
The canker of riches corrupts more lives in this present-day world of ours than even the most prevalent disease could possibly affect in a score of years. Whether it be the passion for wealth, the envy of others more gifted in material possession, or the corroding demoralization of too much money that so quickly leads to selfish complacency is beside the point. Sufficient to say that there are few people whose lives are not influenced in some way or another by the glittering sheen of gold.
A very interesting discussion of money as it concerns the moral and mental welfare of two gangsters and an unsophisticated girl of San Francisco, appears in "On Thin Ice," which is a powerful drama of that strata of humanity who fatten on the wealth of their fellow-men. "On Thin Ice" closes at the Yost tonight.

Edith Roberts, Tom Moore and William Russell form a rather striking trio of players in this play, giving strong impressions of the basic passions that move men in the game of life they play so ruthlessly for their own gain. Money can transform people in one devastating moment, but "On Thin Ice" also shows how strong an antidote is love.
"THE DARK SWAN" OPENS AT YOST TUESDAY
Ernest Pascal, the clever novelist of "The Dark Swan," certainly got a dramatic situation when he conceived the idea of having two sisters rivals for the love of the same man. One of these girls, Eve, is lovely outside, but inside a corruption of egotism and selfishness. The other, Cornelia, is very unattractive to the eye but has a fine soul. They both fight for the love of Lewis Dike, who begins by courting Cornelia, then is captivated by the beauty of Eve, and later rues his decision in marrying her.
Marie Prevost, Helene Chadwick, Monte Blue, Arthur Rankin, Lilyan Tashman, Mary McLaren, Carlton Miller, Vera Lewis and John Patrick are in the cast.
"The Dark Swan" opens at the Yost theater tomorrow.

"I'LL SHOW YOU THE TOWN" OPENS AT WALKER'S
"I'll Show You the Town," starring Reginald Denny, now playing at the Walker theater, is the screen version of Elmer Davis' screamingly funny novel of the same name. It tells the love story of an unromantic college professor, Marian Nixon, Edward Kimball, Lilyan Tashman, Hayden Stevenson, Cissy Fitzgerald, Margaret Livingston, Nelly Edwards, William A. Carroll, Martha Mattox, Helen Greene and Lionel Braham are in the supporting cast. Harry A. Pollard directed.
Trying to entertain three women at the same place and at the same time though each separately, none of the women being aware of the other's existence, is the lot which falls to Alec Deupree, a young, unromantic college professor.
Alec is trying desperately to win the favors of Agnes Clavenger, a wealthy widow, in order to save the fortune of a defunct college. In trying to win the favors of one woman he is thrown into a vengeful matrimonial net and has three beautiful women vying for his services as guide to "show them the town." In trying to be obliging he weaves a net of scandal about him from which the ever resourceful Alec has a difficult time to free himself.

Carroll, Martha Mattox, Helen Greene and Lionel Braham are in the supporting cast. Harry A. Pollard directed.
Trying to entertain three women at the same place and at the same time though each separately, none of the women being aware of the other's existence, is the lot which falls to Alec Deupree, a young, unromantic college professor.
Alec is trying desperately to win the favors of Agnes Clavenger, a wealthy widow, in order to save the fortune of a defunct college. In trying to win the favors of one woman he is thrown into a vengeful matrimonial net and has three beautiful women vying for his services as guide to "show them the town." In trying to be obliging he weaves a net of scandal about him from which the ever resourceful Alec has a difficult time to free himself.

succeeded in coating the divorce theme with a new and somewhat frothy veneer in "Ground for Divorce," which features Florence Vidor and Matt Moore.
It is a simple story of a husband and a wife. The husband is a famous divorce lawyer of Paris. He becomes so engrossed in the troubles of other men's wives that his own wife feels that she is being neglected.
One feels that the husband is doing his duty by the "bread and butter" in his work and is not inclined to agree with the "terribly neglected wife who wants to play."
As a matter of fact, it would seem more logical if the husband were not so wrapped up in his work and the wife complained on this account.
However, the populace will enjoy the deft lightness with which the problem is handled and will thoroughly relish the lack of moralizing.
Miss Vidor's naive womanliness and Moore's tolerant nonchalance and Moore's which spice the picture. Louise Fazenda and Harry Meyers contribute eccentric wit and create many comical situations.

"Friendly Enemies"

with
Weber and Fields

After you've seen it you'll understand why "Friendly Enemies" is on everybody's tongue and why Weber and Fields have continued popular for fifty years. You'll laugh at their good-natured banterings and bickerings, thrill to the scenes of suspense and action, and shed tears of sympathy at the fine scenes of pathos. A big, tense, stirring comedy-drama with Virginia Brown Faire, Lucille Lee Stewart, Jack Mulhall, and Eugenie Besserer in the supporting cast.

WHY SKINNY FOLKS TAKE COD LIVER OIL

But it's nasty tasting, horrible smelling stuff that often upsets the stomach so doctors now are ordering cod liver oil in tablet form.

You've got to take on weight when McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are taken regularly—you simply can't help it.

It's so good that if it doesn't put on five pounds of good healthy flesh on any skinny man or woman in thirty days the McCoy Laboratories of New York authorize White Cross Drug Co., C. S. Kelley Drug Co., Mateer's and all druggists to return

Be sure to ask for McCoy's Compound Liver Oil Compound Tablets—sixty tablets—60 cents. One woman put on fifteen pounds in five weeks, and they are especially valuable to weak thin children.

W. E. PATTERSON, Mgr.

If you are going to buy a car this summer, now is the time so you can get the good out of it for your vacation and Sunday trips.

Bring your old car in and we will give you a trade. We can fix them up cheaper than you can and you will not be out of the use of a car while it is being repaired.

Our records for the past 18 months show 97 satisfied customers out of each 100 we sell. When you consider the business from all angles, taking into consideration we are selling used cars and that some people are very unreasonable, we consider this a very enviable record.

When you buy a car here, you are not going to have anyone tell you that you are stung on the price.

MUST DO ITS SHARE

Orange county must raise its quota of the Veterans Endowment fund. That is conceded; it was conceded the minute that the county was given a quota, for this county is not in the habit of failing in doing its patriotic duty on any occasion, and surely it will not change that habit in the face of the needs presented by the American Legion which sponsors the raising of the great national endowment fund.

The good will of every American community should go out to this movement. It is not an American Legion fund, in any sense, although the Legion has promoted the movement. The management is to be had under an organization of which the President of the United States is the head. But it is in no sense a governmental proposal or undertaking. The endowment is to do work for which the government makes no provision, and will make none. It cares for the orphans or veterans whether they are members of the Legion or not. It is to be preserved as an endowment, the capital never to be spent, only the income. And when the veterans of the United States, as now enrolled, are gone, the endowment trustees will have the duty of applying the funds to other similar needs, that future misfortunes may develop.

Santa Ana's portion of the fund is to be raised next fall through the Community chest, the directors of which have already assumed responsibility for Santa Ana's and Tustin's portion. Other communities have undertaken to raise their portions during the month of June. We have no doubt about their success.

NEW SESSION OR INITIATE?

The indications are that Governor Richardson by failing to sign the three-cent gasoline tax has failed to settle the matter. The northern and central portions of the state were vehement in their demand that the governor do something about the tax. They wanted the tax in order that a program of road building in which they were vitally interested could be carried out.

But Southern California, at least Southern California as represented by the Southern California Automobile club, fought the gasoline raise for the reason that most of the money was to be spent up the state. The automobile club and the oil companies presented a formidable front against the measure, and the attorney general and others came forward with numerous legal reasons why the three-cent tax measure should not be signed.

"The governor is faced with the demand that he forthwith call a special session to correct the 'bungling' and enact the measure anew," says the San Bernardino Sun, which quotes the San Francisco Chronicle, "which, until the governor's attitude on the gasoline tax became apparent, has generally supported the state administration," as follows:

With the gas tax bill a failure there is no money for new road work. The governor himself has said so. That money MUST be provided. A special session of the legislature can do it. With the horrible example of the Breed bill as a reminder we believe the legislators will be able on a second trial to frame a proper measure without bungling.

A special session will cost nothing in comparison with the loss the state will suffer if all new road work is stopped. All California demands the completion of the highway program as speedily as possible.

The San Bernardino Sun, which is unlike the San Francisco Chronicle is that its attitude toward Governor Richardson is the same now as it was before the failure of the gasoline measure disturbed the north, says:

There are some indications that the gasoline tax situation has worried the governor. He is certainly off his poise when he signs such a pork-barrel proposition as the appropriation of $100,000 for a highway celebration at Reno, Nevada. But the north, which is frowning over the gasoline tax, supported the Reno celebration, for it wants the Lincoln highway route advertised, even though the road is impassable most of the months of the year. It would seem the $100,000 invested in construction on one of the trans-continental highways would do far more good than a celebration advertising highways that do not in fact exist. But lots of things may happen in a political way to soothe the sensibilities jarred by the gasoline tax situation.

Senator A. H. Breed, who drew up the three-cent tax measure, is not advocating the calling of a special session of the legislature. He probably recognizes the futility of such a movement; he must know that Governor Richardson has taken one horn of the dilemma before him, and having done his best to make plain to the public that the measure was bungled and therefore impossible, is not going to revive the issue if he can possibly help it. Since he knows the governor will not call a special session, Breed has issued a statement in which he says that he thinks the people of the state should have an opportunity to vote on the question. Others, too, are advocating immediate recourse to an initiative measure. Breed rather passes the responsibility for the three-cent tax proposal up to the governor. At least, it sounds that way to us, and you may judge for yourself, for Breed, in a statement issued since the killing of the bill by Richardson, says:

I am, of course, keenly disappointed over the failure of Governor Richardson to sign the gasoline tax act. I think that a serious blow has been struck at the progress of our state and that a penny-wise policy has been adopted. We now have millions invested in uncompleted highways, almost a total loss so far as public benefit is concerned.

Last year I freely gave much time during a period of eight months or so as a member of the Committee of Nine appointed by the Governor to investigate the highway situation, and to suggest a solution of the problems arising from exhaustion of the bond moneys that had been voted. We toured the state and made a careful examination of the entire highway system. Roads on which large sums have been expended terminated against mountain sides and other obstructions. In Southern California the system is very high inaccessible to eastern tourists because no highways are provided to the state boundary line. It was obvious that additional funds should be provided so that millions expended in unusable roads could be unlocked and give a return to the people. A large capital now lies wholly idle. It was manifest that sound business policy dictated that the additional funds should be raised so that the state should have the benefit of a complete highway system.

The governor was much in sympathy with our plans. We canvassed the situation for methods of procuring required revenue. The only feasible plan presented was that of the gasoline tax. I thought he was as much in favor of the gasoline tax as I was.

Certain oil interests in this state have become all powerful and never was there a more autocratic type of "public be-damned" magnates. When we proposed to increase the gasoline tax one cent a gallon, they definitely raised the price two cents a gallon. Now that they have things in their own hands, we may look for further increases.

They freely add on to the load to fill their own pockets, but when the state asks for a cent, they are defiant. No one derives more than the oil men from the highway system, and yet they will not contribute toward its up-building. The way is now paved for them to boost their prices. Monopolistic conditions prevail and there is no restraint upon them.

It has been suggested that this issue could be presented to the people through an initiative petition. If this is a practicable thing to do, I would be strongly in favor of such a movement. I would be glad to have the views of others who are interested as I am in this question of development of our state. I do think the people of California should have an opportunity to vote upon this question.

Since Senator Breed has asked for opinions, we will humbly offer him ours. Our opinion is that any initiative measure that does not provide a distribution of funds by which Southern California will get a fair proportion of the expenditures will be killed at the polls by Southern California. And if Southern California gets what it thinks it ought to have, the rest of the state will not be satisfied and would oppose the measure at the polls. It looks to us as though the fight is over with, for surely the governor will not call a special session and the chances for victory by initiative are slim.

Building More Schools

Bakersfield Californian.

When it comes to spending money for educational purposes, California is still taking strides with the proverbial seven-league boots. Mount Eden has just completed a $40,000 school building. Pittsburg is planning a new library building and Marysville has recommended a bond issue of $400,000 for school purposes. At Berkeley two new school sites have been purchased recently for $35,000, which means an additional expenditure of many thousands of dollars. Long Beach announces plans for the erection of a new school building of 12 rooms. At Bell Town the citizens have authorized a schoolhouse to cost $25,000. Redlands reports a $75,000 library addition to the University of Redlands.

These items are taken at random from the new reports covering a brief period of time. Obviously they represent but a small percentage of the total amount being spent for educational extension. But they are impressive enough to suggest that the youth of today is enjoying advantages that it should not fail to appreciate. And it also suggests that such splendid equipment ought not to be employed for the exploitation of educational cranks.

Never Got His Pay

Redlands Facts.

Members of the state legislature a decade ago will remember "Constitutional John" Curtin, member of the upper house, and representing the Tuolumne and Calaveras sections. Senator Curtin is especially remembered in senatorial circles because of his connection with what we term "Amendment No. 1" which is the present tax scheme of the state. He assisted largely in framing the measure and was employed between sessions to work on the amendment. For this work, although formally appointed by the governor to do it, he was never able to collect. He presented a bill, in the sum of $2000 if memory serves the writer of this correctly, but a hostile administration coming in, the legislature did not pass the bill, and as the years went by, each succeeding legislature paid less and less attention to the claim.

EDITORIAL SHORTS

Riverside will be given an opportunity in the near future to decide itself for a memorial hall and civic auditorium, probably at the same time that an election is held for important improvements to the municipal domestic water system. One measure is of practical necessity. The other is just as important in the civic and community life, looking toward a suitable place in which the veterans of all our wars may have meeting places and where the city may entertain future conventions, hold large musical festivals and other programs. When the people fully understand the need of both projects, they will respond by voting the bonds that the common council decide to present for their consideration.—Riverside Enterprise.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. CLIFFORD C. ROBINSON

NERVES

A large number of women develop nervousness or nerve instability as a result of some chronic ailment which is permitted to gnaw at their vitality and remain undisturbed for years. Many people, often in the same family, do not understand or sympathize, especially if they have never suffered in the same manner, and declare that the nervous symptoms in Aunt Jennie or Sister Sue are "imaginary." But it isn't. The one afflicted knows different, through the terrors of many a nerve-racked day and afflictions that sometimes last for years.

"Nerves" are a deadly enemy to the appearance and attractive personality of any woman. They aggravate and increase to a marked extent any actual ill health she may have.

The first thing to realize is that there is a cause. You must try to remove that and make up your mind or "will" to escape from nerves. If you are troubled with dyspepsia, begin at once to get your digestive organs into a healthy, sound condition by right eating habits and proper food. If you are doing more than you should properly do, let up. Don't be a martyr. They are not appreciated at the present day.

Practice muscle relaxation with complete rest at certain intervals during the day and try deep breathing frequently during both rest and work. The nervous woman breathes rapidly and by so doing expends energy she ought to save.

Lastly, strive for mind control. Refrain from anger, sharp words or irritating remarks which are evidences of a nervous explosion. Don't think of yourself, or try self pity. Use your energy for others and be the happy warrior.

Here is another case where the health examination comes into the play. Have you ever had one, a real honest health examination by a real physician? Its purpose is to find out whether there is anything wrong in the machinery of your body. If there is you should know it and try to bring about a complete restoration in your health.

This will definitely tell you what to do so that you may not continue drifting along for years into neurasthenia, nerve instability and health bankruptcy.

Thrift and Hoarding

Kansas City Times

Mr. William E. Knox, president of the Bowery Savings Bank in New York City, remarked in Kansas City yesterday that the man who practices thrift and acquires some property is spoiled for communism. The strength of character and sense of responsibility that ownership gives are totally out of keeping with the destructive ideas of the individual who has not the energy or initiative to make a place for himself in the economic system and therefore would see nobody else enjoy the benefits that come from honest labor and the careful use of money.

The practice of thrift is a character building tonic, and it is hardly surprising that it has had the indorsement of men of standing and accomplishment. Theodore Roosevelt declared that extravagance robs character and that youth should be trained away from it; an idea which many of the school today are using effectively in teaching children to save. James J. Hill remarked that any youth can find out whether he is destined for success or failure by the simple test of his ability to save money.

Thrift, of course, does not mean simply saving money, certainly not hoarding it. It does mean a profitable use of money. And often the profitable thing to do is to spend money. Industry and commerce are promoted and prosperity is made possible because of a constructive use of capital. Many a youth, and older person as well, could make no better use of money than by buying a home or other property; by buying an interest in business, by investing in an education, in clothing that is needed to make one presentable or in the thousand and one comforts and conveniences of modern life.

Hoarding and miserliness are as bad as extravagance, perhaps worse in their influence on character and certainly worse as they relate to a sound economic order. Somewhere the line between the two extremes is to be drawn. Happy is the individual who finds it. He is the really thrifty person.

YOUTH

My ships are sailing on all seas
From Cape Town to the Hebrides,
And even farther north to where
The frozen seas the pole ensare;
And every day some stately ship
Comes proudly to my landing slip
All laden down with shining ore
Delved from Hope's mines on many a shore,
And there is vintage—of a truth
The sweetest known—the wine of youth:
While Fancy's looms in every land
Are intertwining strand with strand
To weave those goods whose precious bales
Pile high the deck beneath the sails.

All through the day with the gibe and song
The stevedores their task prolong
As they unlade the shining ore
And bring the bales from ship to shore.

HIS JOB

There was no one at the table but the landlady and Mr. Skaggs, and the latter was doing his best to cut the piece of steak on his plate.

"Mr. Skaggs," said the landlady firmly, "when are you going to pay your bill?"

"Madam!" responded Mr. Skaggs in a tone of surprise. "When are you going to pay your bill?"

"I didn't know I had to," he said, as he looked reproachfully at the steak. "I thought I was working it out."—Farm and Fireside.

SHAKESPEARE'S SOFT SNAP

"Look, for example," said the teacher of English literature, "at the almost unbounded industry of the immortal William Shakespeare! Look at all the volumes his busy pen produced!" "Yes," said a hodge-podge student whose intelligence had never created any great sensation in the class, "but it wasn't as hard as it might have been. Why, nearly everything he wrote is a quotation!"

Corn on the Cob

Hal Cockran's
DAILY POEM

Put on a bib, man, and roll up your sleeves, for we're nearin' a wonderful job. May be a task, but a soul never grieves over mauling on corn on the cob.

Off in the distance I'm hearin' the cry of a huckster whose wagon is packed. 'Twon't be so long till he's passin' right by, and we'll welcome him here, for a fact.

Think of the pleasure we'll have, if you please, of smearin' the butter on thick. Say, that old cry, floatin' over the breeze, can't come to us any too quick.

Corn on the cob! "Wow, it gives me a thrill, and I guess I'm just one of the mob that's waitin' impatient and anxious until the huckster shouts, "Corn on the Cob."

Shall They Pay?

Redlands Facts

The Literary Digest has been carrying on one of its popular polls on questions before the public and finds that the people demand that debts owed the United States shall not be cancelled. Several hundred leaders in finance, industry, politics, education and labor circles were interviewed. All are unanimous that whatever plan is finally adopted should be applied to each nation alike.

"Our government," Elbert H. Gary stated in response to the magazine's questionnaire, "in a polite and friendly way should strictly insist that all debtor nations pay to this country the full amount of claims, at the same time offering liberal terms as to interest of payment and rate of interest."

According to Col. Edward M. House, who was one of President Wilson's intimates during the peace settlement days, the adjustment has been postponed too long.

"These debts," Colonel House says, "should have been settled jointly and not severally immediately after the armistice had been signed. Even now there should be a general clearance and equitable adjustment of all war debts and in this adjustment consideration should be given to the nature of the obligations, and to a comprehensive view of the general international welfare rather than the restricted view of mere money."

Roland W. Boyden, formerly unofficial delegate of the United States on the reparations commission, states that America should apply the principle of the Daws plan to the debt, making judiciously or fairly eliminated the demand for payment proportionate to it.

The shortest and safest way to a solution of these problems, in my judgment, would be to treat the whole question as a receiver's problem, to ask all creditors to participate in a plan of reorganization and reconstruction, and to take in exchange for their existing obligations an equitable share of new and properly secured evidences of indebtedness.

"The reparations to be paid by the German republic are an essential element of the whole problem and can not, I think, be either Daws plan to the debt, making judiciously or fairly eliminated the demand for payment proportionate to it."

ADVENTURES

Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 1—THE STORY TELLER MAN

The Fairy Queen appeared to Nancy and Nick, the Twins, as they were playing in the meadow one day.

The wild flowers were out, and Nancy was just about to pick a May apple blossom, when her eyes fell upon the dainty little lady.

"Oh, dear! Excuse me!" she cried, pulling her hand away. "I didn't know you were here."

The Fairy Queen laughed. "It looked like rain," said she, "and I stopped under this May-apple leaf for shelter. It looks so much like an umbrella."

"Is this part of Fairyland?" asked Nick.

"Certainly," answered the Fairy Queen. "Wherever you see flowers it is always Fairyland. I always come this way when I have a journey to make. It is so convenient to have all these umbrellas handy in case of a shower."

"Are you on a journey?" asked Nancy.

"Yes, I was coming to see you," the Fairy Queen answered with a little laugh.

"Us!" cried the Twins in surprise.

"Yes, you!" nodded Her Royal Highness. "I overheard you say that you liked flowers better than anything in the world, and stories next. Is that true?"

"Yes, it is," said the children quickly. "Did you hear us talking about it?"

"Yes, and the funny part of it is, that just when I happened to hear you talking about it, I was reading a letter from the Story Teller Man, saying that he had learned a lot of new stories."

"The Story Teller Man!" said Nick. "Where does he live?"

"In another part of Fairyland," said the Fairy Queen. "In one of my Nine Hundred and Ninety-nine Kingdoms. He has a funny house with all sorts of interesting things in it. The windows are made of barley sugar from the witch's house, the roof is made of precious stones brought back by Sinbad the Sailor, the walls are of boards that Strong Arm saved from the Giant's house when he knocked it over, the trees are from the garden of the Sleeping Princess, the fountain is the one in which the Frog Prince lived when he rescued the golden ball, and—but there! Wouldn't you like to see for yourselves? Here are the magic green shoes that can take you anywhere."

The green shoes had been there all the time, standing right in the May-apple patch, but they so exactly matched the grass and leaves about them that nobody except a fairy would ever have noticed them at all.

"Put them on," said the Fairy Queen, "and you will find yourself at the Story Teller's house. He is waiting for you."

The Twins scrambled out of their own shoes and into the others without another word. Then they turned to thank the Fairy Queen for her kindness and to say "good-bye."

But lo and behold! The May-apple patch was gone, the woods and meadow were gone—and gone was the Fairy Queen!

Instead, there stood a queer house covered with curlicues—different from any they had ever seen. It was painted a hundred colors and no two things were alike.

Suddenly they remembered what the fairy had told them. "It must be the Story Teller's House in Fairyland," said Nancy.

Before Nick had time to reply, the door opened and a merry fellow dressed like a king's jester appeared. He beckoned to them with a little stick which jingled when it moved. His eyes were kind and the children knew at once that they should like him.

"Welcome, my dears," he said with a bow. "I am the Story Teller Man."
